Sweeping Shakeup

Governors Hold Fire On Guards, Reserve Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—Governors held their fire for the most part as the Pentagon unveiled its program designed to get more ready-to-go combat punch into fewer National Guard and Army Reserve units.

An outcry had been predicted by some. It still may come. But Tuesday's announcement by the Defense Department drew only a request by Gov. Albert D. Rossellini of Washington that his colleagues withhold approval of the National Guard proposals until after a Pentagon meeting with state adjutants general next Monday.

Rossellini, chairman of the National Governor's Conference, said he personally opposes abolition of National Guard units in his state. He urged other governors to wait until after a special committee of the conference looks into the matter after Monday's meeting.

The shakeup, in the works for eight months or more, will build reserve strength "far greater than anything we have known in the past," Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said in announcing it.

The order goes into effect automatically for Army Reserve units. Approval by governors is needed for any changes in the National Guard during peacetime.

In brief, the Pentagon proposes:

Abolishing four Army Reserve and four National Guard divisions plus a net of 731 smaller units it considers out of date.

Placing most of the men from the abolished units into 11 new brigades, new support units, and six high priority National Guard divisions. The last would be an elite first line of Army Reserve forces.

Retaining 17 other National Guard and six Army Reserve combat divisions at 50 per cent strength, and keeping 13 reserve divisions as training units.

The over-all aim: to provide the six National Guard divisions with 11,000 men each and enough equipment, training and support to get them ready for movement to a firing line within eight weeks of a call to active duty. There are 16 regular Army divisions.

The shakeup won't affect the over-all size of the reserve, which still isn't up to the 700,000-man goal set by Congress. But higher standards for reservists may make it harder to reach that goal, Pentagon officials said.

The National Guard divisions which the Pentagon proposes abolishing—except for 150-man skeleton headquarters staffs—are the 34th Infantry of Iowa and Nebraska, the 35th of Kansas and Missouri, the 43rd of Connecticut, Rhode Island and Vermont and the 51st of Florida and South Carolina.

The reserve divisions ordered broken up are the 79th Infantry of Pennsylvania, the 94th of Massachusetts, the 96th of Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Washington, and Nevada, and the 103rd of Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Adenauer's Ouster Eyed In Bonn Bid

Democrats To Meet With Socialists To Set Up Coalition

West Germany's serious political crisis showed no sign of solution. Adenauer and his Christian Democrats discussed coalition with Socialist leaders Tuesday but reached no decision.

A communique said that they discussed "future political cooperation." Half the Socialist members of Parliament were reported opposed to a coalition with the Christian Democrats unless Adenauer retired.

The unresolved crisis, touched off originally by the walkout of Free Democrats from the government as a result of the Spiegel affair, has put Adenauer in one of the toughest spots of his political career.

A union of Free Democrats and Socialists would mean an end to the 86-year-old Adenauer's rule.

The Free Democrats, with 67 seats, hold the balance of power in the present Bundestag (lower house). Adenauer's Christian Democrats hold 241 seats and the Socialists 190.

A new arrest in the Spiegel case was announced while political leaders struggled to heal the breach caused by the crackdown on the weekly news magazine.

Lawyer Josef Augstein, a brother of Der Spiegel's publisher, was taken into custody Tuesday on suspicion of complicity in high treason.

The previous arrests of publisher Rudolf Augstein and members of his staff touched off the turmoil that caused the exit of the Free Democrats from the government and brought on the resignation of Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss.

The first arrests followed an article in the magazine charging that the 400,000-man armed force Strauss built up during his six years in office was incapable of stopping any Soviet aggression. Critics charged that Strauss had sought revenge against the magazine, which had constantly opposed him. Strauss subsequently resigned, but efforts to patch up the coalition have so far been unsuccessful.

Conviction Could Mean 1-20 Years

Jurors Would Also Set Loss Amount, Panel Is Instructed

By GLENN WAIGHT

Sifting through six days of testimony and conflicting versions of what happened to $23,841 taken from city water department funds, a Common Pleas Court jury at Lisbon today was deliberating a verdict in the embezzlement trial of Roberta C. Smith.

The panel of three men and nine women received the case at 10:05, following instruction by Judge Joel H. Sharp.

An hour and a quarter after the jury retired, there was no indication of a verdict.

Under Ohio law, the penalty for conviction of embezzlement is a fine of double the amount taken as determined by the jury and a prison term of 1-20 years.

In event of conviction of Miss Smith, the fine would serve as a judgment to the city of East Liverpool to cover the losses.

Former Chief Clerk

Miss Smith, former chief clerk of the water department, is charged with embezzling and converting to her own use the money discovered missing from the department funds for the period between May 1959 and November 1961.

In her trial, which began Nov. 26 the 40-year-old blonde denied taking any money, testifying there had been about $11,000 in receipts taken from the office vault in September 1959 which she was told to "cover up" by Frank Robinson, then superintendent.

In his closing argument yesterday afternoon, Prosecutor William Brokaw underscored anew his contention that Miss Smith was responsible for office receipts and for depositing them, and had taken the money.

Doubts Robbery Theory

"I don't believe there was any robbery in the East Liverpool water department," he declared.

Earlier, Atty. Frank Springer, defense counsel, in his closing statement, said there was no denial that department funds came

High Official In Argentina Resigns Post

Economic Minister Quits; Navy Chief Also Reported Out

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Economic Minister Alvaro Alsogaray gave in to week-long pressure Tuesday night and tendered his resignation, charging that divisions in the government balked his campaign to hold the line against inflation.

The threatened departure from the government of the controversial 49-year-old economist—along with his entire economic team of 20 senior officials—promised yet another political crisis.

Unconfirmed reports said Rear Adm. Carlos A. Kolungia also had resigned as Navy secretary.

President Jose Maria Guido neither accepted nor rejected the mass resignations immediately. He told Alsogaray he would start a round of consultations—beginning with the military leaders of the government—today.

Council At Wellsville Allows Free Parking

Free parking for three full days and for parts of four others for Christmas shoppers was authorized by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

There will be free meter parking on the remaining Saturday nights of the month, beginning at 5 p. m., and all day on Dec. 21, 22 and 24.

Council also requested that merchants and their employes refrain from parking along Main St. so as to give the free parking space to shoppers.

Mayor William Daugherty suggested the free parking also on Wednesday afternoons but no action was taken.

An informal discussion on free parking was held prior to the regular meeting. During the discussion, it was proposed that a full two weeks of free parking be granted, but it was not favored.

Teamster President Target In Shooting

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A white man wearing a trench coat and waving what appeared to be some type of pellet gun dashed into the federal courtroom today where James R. Hoffa was on trial and fired several times at the Teamsters Union president.

Hoffa was not injured.

"I saw the gun," Hoffa said. "I knocked him down."

Fight Starts Taking Shape For Congress

Bids To 'Liberalize' 2 Of Major House Committees Cited

WASHINGTON (AP)—Moves to "liberalize" two major House committees—Rules and Ways and Means—may get the new Congress off to a battling start next month.

On their success or failure depends the fate of much of President Kennedy's domestic legislative program.

Administration spokesmen disclosed privately today that they would fight to keep the membership of the powerful Rules Committee at 15. The committee will revert to its original 12-man size in the new House unless the House votes for the larger number.

Membership was increased to 15 two years ago in a bid to add liberal votes and thus break the grip a conservative coalition had held for years.

The committee now is composed of 10 Democrats and five Republicans, with eight liberal Democrats normally—but not always—in control. Under the 12-man arrangement, a conservative coalition of two Southern Democrats, Chairman Howard W. Smith of Virginia and William M. Colmer of Mississippi, often teamed with the four Republican members to block administration bills.

The Rules Committee is a clearing house for bills approved by other committees. Without its approval, it is extremely difficult for a bill to reach the House floor. Even the enlarged committee blocked some Kennedy-backed bills.

Yule Season's 'Open' As Thief Takes Tree

Everyone has his own way of dating the beginning of the Christmas season — the appearance of Salvation Army kettles on the streets or the business district parade welcoming Santa Claus.

For the East Liverpool police department, it's the date that the first ornamental evergreen is cut down on some irate householder's lawn and carried away for use as a Christmas tree. That harbinger of the holidays came Tuesday night.

Carl R. Pearson, 1651 Park Ave., told police a 4½-foot blue spruce was cut down and toted away from the side yard at his home while he was absent between 8 and 8:40 last night.

New Tax Plan On Expense Accounts Hit

Business Executive Hurls Challenge At Revenue Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Should Mrs. John F. Kennedy pay for her own meal at White House dinners honoring foreign dignitaries or is this a legitimate business expense of the President of the United States?

This question was raised Tuesday by a St. Paul, Minn., businessman who challenged tax regulations proposed by the Internal Revenue Service to implement a new law designed to curb expense account abuses.

Autos Slowed By Dense Fog

Warm Spell Ends; Snow Flurries Due

The heaviest fog of the season blanketed the Ohio Valley early this morning, slowing traffic to a crawl and causing at least one mishap.

The fog caused a motorist to ram guardrails across the northbound lane of the new Freeway where it joins Dresden Ave. Ext. about 7 a. m.

No one was injured. The driver, instead of making the sharp right turn, hit the guardrails separating the lanes.

The fog developed after a muggy night as more than a week of mild weather seemed at end with much colder and snow flurries expected by tonight.

Temperatures had soared to 60 several times since the Indian Summer began more than a week ago but today's high range may be in the 40's with a low of 26 to 34 tonight.

Light rain in the Lisbon area compounded the hazard of the fog but there were no showers in the city during the forenoon.

Tonight will be windy with the drop in temperature and the scattered snow flurries apparently will continue Thursday.

Council Plans Issuance Of Payroll Fund

It was a payless payday today for 19 street department employes because their wage appropriation was exhausted, but Council scheduled a special session tonight at 11 to provide the funds and allow the men to be paid belatedly Thursday.

Making good on a warning he issued Tuesday, City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate declined to distribute the pay checks totaling $3,282 to the street department workers this morning—the regular city payday for the last half of November.

With the department's wage appropriation exhausted, he has no legal right to disburse the funds, he said.

President Charles N. Edwards advised Council members this morning of the extra session tonight to act on legislation providing additional funds for the department. It was set at 11 to meet the working schedules of several members who are on night shifts.

All other city workers drew their checks on schedule this morning.

Kennedy Holding Key

Adlai's Future At UN Clouded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The future of Adlai E. Stevenson as President Kennedy's ambassador to the United Nations rested under a cloud of uncertainty today—a cloud which only Kennedy himself can dispel.

Stevenson Says He Approved Blockade

NEW YORK, (AP) — Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson said today that he had approved of the naval blockade of Cuba at least three days before the government decided to impose it.

Reiterating his denial that he had opposed the blockade, Stevenson said on the NBC television "Today" show: "I was emphatically in favor of it."

Unless the uncertainty is cleared up soon Stevenson's effectiveness in dealing with other diplomats in New York may be impaired.

His prestige and persuasiveness depend upon the faith foreign envoys place in the President's confidence in Stevenson. That seems, for the moment, to be the central issue the President must now deal with.

Some well-placed officials expect that Kennedy will speak out publicly in support of Stevenson. Associates of the ambassador say privately that the President already has assured him of his full support and that Stevenson is planning to carry on as usual.

Unless Stevenson was convinced of Kennedy's complete backing, one informant said, "he would have resigned already."

In official quarters two other questions are coming into focus:

How much tolerance is there at the White House for disagreement in policy making?

Should anonymous but apparently authoritative criticism of a high official be interpreted as evidence that his resignation would be welcomed by the President?

Stevenson's troubles began Sunday with the disclosure in New York of an article in this week's edition of the Saturday Evening Post. The article was written by Charles Bartlett, a reporter for the Chattanooga Times and a very close friend of Kennedy, and by Stewart Alsop, the Washington editor of the magazine who is reputed to have excellent contacts within the administration.

Cruiser Feud Flares Anew In Hancock

Chairman Graham Asked To Give Up Duties Temporarily

A suggestion that William C. Graham relinquish temporarily his chair as president of Hancock County commissioners was made in a discussion that continued Tuesday afternoon by the county group on the purchase of two cruisers for the sheriff's office.

Atty. Frank Pietranton, representing Hilltop Motors of Weirton, which offered bids for the purchase of two cruisers, suggested that Graham relinquish temporarily his duties as president and allow another commissioner to head the group in order that delivery and payment of the cruisers be made.

Graham has refused to authorize payment for two Studebaker Lark cruisers ordered by his fellow commissioners from Hilltop

Metering Due On Market St. And Dresden

Work started Tuesday on installation of parking meters on sections of Market St. and Dresden Ave. that displayed yellow-lined curbs for years when Route 30 wound through the heart of the business district.

Now that opening of the freeway has taken the busy federal route out of the downtown area, the city is free to install about 55 meters on the west side of Market St. between 3rd and 5th Sts. and on the east side of Dresden Ave. between the Diamond and W. 9th St., Safety-Service Director Robert Owen said.

What's more, if all goes well the new parking spots will be in use when they're needed most—at the height of the Christmas shopping season. Standards are being erected for the new meters.

When Route 30 passed through the heart of the downtown area, the city was required to ban parking on one side of the busy thoroughfare to assure a free flow of traffic. The streets have reverted to local traffic, allowing the change.

In the process, the city will re-

$2,419,866 Job Set At Shippingport

The Pennsylvania State Highway Department said the Ben Construction Co. of Pittsburgh has been awarded a contract for the superstructure of the Midland - Shippingport Bridge on the firm's low bid of $2,419,866.

Bids were opened early last month. The latest figure brings the total cost of the bridge to $3,844,177, considerably less than the $4½ million estimated.

Ben Construction is presently a sub-contractor at the bridge site for the excavation and preparation of the approach work.

W. P. Dickerson & Son, Inc., of Youngwood, Pa., general contractor for the substructure, was awarded a $1,424,290 contract last March.

The substructure is nearing completion.

The toll - free bridge is being built across the Ohio River in Shippingport Borough and in Industry Borough about a half-mile east of Midland. It will link Route 68 with 168, replacing the Shippingport Ferry.

Stevenson Says He Approved Blockade

NEW YORK, (AP) — Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson said today that he had approved of the naval blockade of Cuba at least three days before the government decided to impose it.

Reiterating his denial that he had opposed the blockade, Stevenson said on the NBC television "Today" show: "I was emphatically in favor of it."

Unless the uncertainty is cleared up soon Stevenson's effectiveness in dealing with other diplomats in New York may be impaired.

His prestige and persuasiveness depend upon the faith foreign envoys place in the President's confidence in Stevenson. That seems, for the moment, to be the central issue the President must now deal with.

Cruiser Feud Flares Anew In Hancock

Chairman Graham Asked To Give Up Duties Temporarily

A suggestion that William C. Graham relinquish temporarily his chair as president of Hancock County commissioners was made in a discussion that continued Tuesday afternoon by the county group on the purchase of two cruisers for the sheriff's office.

Atty. Frank Pietranton, representing Hilltop Motors of Weirton, which offered bids for the purchase of two cruisers, suggested that Graham relinquish temporarily his duties as president and allow another commissioner to head the group in order that delivery and payment of the cruisers be made.

Graham has refused to authorize payment for two Studebaker Lark cruisers ordered by his fellow commissioners from Hilltop

Metering Due On Market St. And Dresden

Work started Tuesday on installation of parking meters on sections of Market St. and Dresden Ave. that displayed yellow-lined curbs for years when Route 30 wound through the heart of the business district.

Now that opening of the freeway has taken the busy federal route out of the downtown area, the city is free to install about 55 meters on the west side of Market St. between 3rd and 5th Sts. and on the east side of Dresden Ave. between the Diamond and W. 9th St., Safety-Service Director Robert Owen said.

What's more, if all goes well the new parking spots will be in use when they're needed most—at the height of the Christmas shopping season. Standards are being erected for the new meters.

When Route 30 passed through the heart of the downtown area, the city was required to ban parking on one side of the busy thoroughfare to assure a free flow of traffic. The streets have reverted to local traffic, allowing the change.

In the process, the city will re-

Contract Let On New Span

$2,419,866 Job Set At Shippingport

The Pennsylvania State Highway Department said the Ben Construction Co. of Pittsburgh has been awarded a contract for the superstructure of the Midland - Shippingport Bridge on the firm's low bid of $2,419,866.

Bids were opened early last month. The latest figure brings the total cost of the bridge to $3,844,177, considerably less than the $4½ million estimated.

Ben Construction is presently a sub-contractor at the bridge site for the excavation and preparation of the approach work.

W. P. Dickerson & Son, Inc., of Youngwood, Pa., general contractor for the substructure, was awarded a $1,424,290 contract last March.

The substructure is nearing completion.

The toll - free bridge is being built across the Ohio River in Shippingport Borough and in Industry Borough about a half-mile east of Midland. It will link Route 68 with 168, replacing the Shippingport Ferry.

At Hotel In Pittsburgh

USPA's Annual Meeting To Be Launched Tuesday

The U. S. Potters Association will hold its 84th annual meeting Tuesday and Wednesday at the Pittsburgh Hilton Hotel in Pittsburgh. More than 100 ceramic industry executives are expected to attend.

The first day's meeting will be devoted principally to committee reports, reviewing developments in 1962 and looking forward to 1963.

The annual banquet will be held Tuesday night at the Hilton, with an address by John M. Bickel, a retired businessman who is a brother of Fredric March, the movie star.

The meeting Wednesday, an executive session, will end with the annual election of officers following a report from a nominating committee headed by Arthur A. Wells of the Homer Laughlin China Co.

Other officers are:

W. V. Oliver, president of the French - Saxon China Co. at Sebring, first vice president; J. Ross Buchanan of the Mayer China Co. at Beaver Falls, second vice president; George S. Bloomgren, East Liverpool civil engineer, associate vice president, and W. A. Betz of East Liverpool, in his 21st year as secretary - treasurer.

Can Russia Earn Confidence?

The new secretary-general of the United Nations, U Thant, is the third to hold the job. His two predecessors, Trygve Lie and Dag Hammarskjold, both went through a gritty process of disenchantment at the hands of the Kremlin.

U Thant's disenchantment has not started yet. He has said flatly in a public speech that the Kremlin has undergone a momentous change which the West has not evaluated properly. He is not expecting disenchantment.

U Thant may never know the scourge of bitter obstructionism that was Secretary-General Lie's punishment for blocking a Communist takeover in Korea, or Secretary-General Hammarskjold's punishment for blocking a takeover in the Congo.

Perhaps there has been a change in the Kremlin so momentous the Soviet Union will become a cooperating member of the United Nations. If U Thant is right and there actually has been a change in the attitude of Soviet leadership, it should show up soon in more ways than those only faintly suggestive of improvement so far.

THE CUBAN crisis was "negotiated."

Tension is said to be tailing off in Berlin.

Inflammatory and abusive statements about the United States have not been reported lately in Russian publications.

These are faint signs of a change for the better.

A strong sign would be willingness to agree on a formula to end the arms race, with allowance for mutual inspection.

A stronger sign would be recantation of the policy to overthrow governments not subservient to the Soviet Union and behavior proving a change of heart, such as withdrawal of spies.

The strongest sign would be a Russian official attitude free from the violent obstructionism that has embittered international relations since the end of World War II.

Under Stalin all these things and more were promised in 1933 in return for U.S. recognition. An exchange of notes between President Roosevelt and Maxim Litvinov, Soviet commissar of foreign affairs, cleared the way for an era of harmony.

U.S. citizens were to be given the same rights in Russia as those of its most favored neighbors. Religious freedom was to be restored. Russia was to abandon attempts to subvert and overthrow other governments.

But once the Kremlin had gained recognition, which is what it wanted, nothing ever was heard of the things it had promised to do.

It will have to earn confidence before it can command confidence.

The U.N. secretary-general may be right; it may be trying to earn confidence. If so, it will command confidence in due time.

Looking Ahead

Only by careful planning can a community hope to move ahead.

It was encouraging, therefore, when representatives of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and members of City Council revived hope of a "master plan" for development at Monday night's Council meeting.

Of particular significance was this statement by George E. Willshaw, chairman of Council's finance committee: "We haven't been able to consider these things previously because of financial difficulties. But now we're getting out of the woods financially."

If the city income tax is allowed to remain in effect for a reasonable period of time, a "master plan" and many other much-needed civic projects are a definite possibility.

Careful planning and adequate finances go and in hand.

Rumor Of A Skirmish In Chicago

One of the first smirmishes of the 1964 presidential campaign occurred in Chicago on Monday when an indeterminate number of conservative Republicans met for an unspecified purpose. Their meeting produced inconclusive results.

Yet out of the inconclusive results grew a strong impression of antipathy for the potential candidacy of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and support for the potential candidacy of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

This the way politics is in the early phases of national campaigns—a series of skirmishes in the half-light of uncertainty involving people of indeterminate identity bearing weapons of vague usefulness.

Sometimes they are hopeful of building up a candidate, sometimes of tearing one down. The Chicago meeting, which was a little hopeful on each point, accomplished neither, barring the possibility it may have lined up an important sum of money to promote Goldwater. This would be significant.

It is unnecessary to line up money to promote Rockefeller, who has his own money, just as John F. Kennedy brought his own to the skirmishing before the battle in 1960 and subsequently, as the Democratic nominee, helped extensively to finance his own campaign. Next to being photogenic, nothing makes a candidate so attractive as a background of seven or more digits.

Thus, whether the objective of the Chicago skirmishers is to stop Rockefeller or promote Goldwater, it's going to take scads of money, political skirmishing being what it is today. Without cash to mold bullets and buy television time to fire them in, the skirmishers run out of oomph so fast no one ever knows they were skirmishing.

Fooling The Gloomer-Doomers

The auto industry is talking seriously about selling seven million cars this year. This would include about a third of a million imports.

The significance of this optimism is the shock it gives to gloomer-doomers who sighed when they looked ahead to a new year in auto sales and feared the worst. They were in full cry last summer.

They conceded the 1963 style year for autos would be good enough as such things go when there's no boom booming. But they doubted if it would be as good as 1962, and when one manufacturer guessed it might be the best ever they clucked in mass consternation.

A fair measure of how fast autos have been moved into the hands of buyers is the $3 billion value placed on the approximately one million cars sold between Oct. 1 and the end of the first full week in November.

This was about 12,000 more cars than were built during the period—and this at the beginning of the style year, when dealers are building up new car inventory!

Purchasers are waiting weeks to get new car deliveries. Demand has put used car values on a firm footing. The stimulus of boom production to meet boom demand is felt in steel and by all other auto suppliers.

What does it mean ?

The gloom-doomers will still be putting on their act when there's nothing to be gloomy-doomy about. But, fortunately, the American public doesn't know when it's "bad off."

It cannot be touted off its confidence by the combined anvil choruses of all the pessimistic politicians and economists combined. When it feels like buying, it buys.

Conversely, when it doesn't feel like buying, it doesn't buy.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

As a gape-mouthed admirer of the First Lady of Our Land I have had to devise a comeback for snarling critics who can say nothing good about her. I observe in a kindly tone: "Go ahead, honey, and eat your jealous heart out if it makes you feel better."

When people ask what makes it possible for my mother, who now has passed her 91st birthday, to look no older than a fraction of that age when she appears in public, I point out that the secret is her hats—always wild, always colorful, always perky. I wish all women would learn this about hats.

One of a thousand things I'd like to be around long enough to see are the closed and covered football fields that will enhance this sport. No more games spoiled by mud, drizzle and cold. The future stadium will be more comfortable than a basketball gymnasium and eventually basketball games, too, will be played there.

The delightful things about caricaturable chief executives is that they become caricatures of themselves in the long run and the sting is taken out of their caricaturing by others. It happened to Herbert Hoover and Harry Truman, and it will happen to John Kennedy as he continues to wave that right arm and discuss "Cuber."

There are so many things to admire about Sir Winston Churchill that the admiration bit is threadbare. There is something extra special about a fellow who customarily belts a soft-boiled egg and a glass of champagne for breakfast, as he did on his 88th birthday. Glug!

Only two accidents have occurred to the glasses I have been wearing since I was in the 2nd grade—one when they were temporarily off my face and some fool crushed them underfoot, the other when a dog golfed them with a playful paw during a romp. Yet, people who wear glasses only occasionally have trouble all the time.

With due respects to newspapers for publishing them, I learn more about a variety of subjects from reading letters to editors than I learn from reading what editors say to their readers. The readers cover more ground and in my estimation have much more to say.

Some year I intend to be farsighted about Christmas and not be nagged by a sense of delay. In the meantime, I'll do my Christmas shopping the last few hours of the last shopping day before Christmas and avoid the rush.

It is my feeling that the title "Peace Corps" was a goody-goody tag that did nothing for the original idea and handicaps the organization that has been developed behind it. My preference is "Task Force," and it would be a fine idea to develop some domestic branches to lift the level of civilization in some of our big cities whose slums are reverting to savagery.

I used to eat all Christmas cookies on general principle. Experience has taught me to eat only the ones worth eating and to shun those made only for ornamentation, including the kind with the silver beads that break your teeth.

Declaring An Unexpected Dividend

Quick Peace Seen If Rail Men Strike

By Victor Riesel

There certainly will be a railroad strike, I have just been told. I trust my source. He is one of those sitting in on the series of union strategy meetings at Chicago, Cleveland and Washington.

Victor Riesel

The stoppage may paralyze 201,160 miles of track. This would mean that all 195 rail companies would be struck. Or there may be a selective strike. A key road would be hit west of the St. Louis and Chicago terminals, along with one to the east.

These would be immobilized to display the strength of the railway workers' brotherhoods.

The stoppages may come next February or March. Or they may not develop for a year if the Supreme Court intervenes. But if there is a strike, a settlement and peace will follow swiftly.

That settlement will be the formula for the conversion from the era symbolized by the iron horse to the space age, not yet really symbolized by anything but elementary moon ship mock-up.

WITH VARIATIONS on the theme, that formula will reveal what will happen to the tens of thousands of men bumped by space age wizardry. Sooner or later the railroads will reach the day when they can legally lay off 13,000 locomotive firemen, who will go with heavy hearts but not with empty pockets.

Those who have been working on the railroads for five to 10 years will receive a year's notice of layoff. Then they will get a special layoff pay for 3 years. This will come to just under $100 a week for 36 months, the railroad people tell me.

The dismissed men will receive this allowance even if they find other jobs. If they do, they then can keep all the money they earn plus the $100 a week.

They can apply for retraining. The carrier will pay 75 per cent of this cost for two years. At all times the firemen — as well as any of the other thousands who will be laid off — are part of a national railroad hiring pool with preferential rehiring rights.

Those who have less than five years' experience will get from 3 to 12 months' notice of layoff. Then they will receive from 6 to 18 months' severance pay. All can take the money in a lump sum or over the extended period.

IN ALL there are 46,000 firemen. Six thousand of these are on passenger trains. They will not be dismissed. This leaves 40,000 on the over-the-road freight trains and in the railroad yards. When the 13,000 younger firemen are gone, there will be 27,000 left. They will have lifetime jobs. But as they retire and pass on their spots will not be filled.

Thus, in years to come there will be only two men in the locomotive cabs of freight trains — the engineer and the brakeman.

Thus slowly the $1.6 million which the roads have been losing daily because of extra men will begin to dwindle. But what of the other thousands the lines want to lay off?

Here is what a presidential commission reported after 16 months of study:

"Carriers should have an unlimited right to introduce technological change. Changes requiring amendment of rules or agreements affecting craft lines, seniority or working conditions should be negotiated with the employes; failing to agree the matter should be referred to a special tribunal for final determination."

And the roads are prepared to go first to the brotherhoods for agreement on dismissals. If they disagree, they will go to compulsory arbitration.

EVENTUALLY some 25,000 additional railroad workers will be released in this fashion. Experts tell me it will take two decades before the lines have completely eliminated the 65,000 jobs they believe to be surplus in the electronic and Diesel locomotive age.

There will be other cuts. These will come during the rail mergers. If the Pennsylvania and New York Central consolidate, the unions say it will cost 15,000 other jobs. However, there really is no definitive accounting now.

But certainly the old crafts are disappearing. Once, some 10 years ago, the brotherhoods had 1.1 million members. Now it takes some 740,000 to run our railroads. Sooner or later the figure will be at 685,000.

I recall writing rail stories involving two million workers; and mine stories concerning 600,000; and steel stories reporting on 1.25 million men. But the old order changes.

The formula appears to be developing around aid to the younger workers seeking new fields while the older men are guaranteed their jobs but the jobs themselves eventually go. And openings in the space age business make room for the newcomers.

Lesson For The GOP

By David Lawrence

'Opposition' Role Should Be Stressed

What's wrong with the Republican party? This isn't exactly the theme of the meeting to be held next Friday and Saturday of the Republican national committee and state chairmen, but it might well be.

David Lawrence

The Republican party, while possessed of potential strength with the voters, has failed to pay attention to the most practical lesson that party politics in America has taught. It is that a party out of power is the party of opposition. It is obligated to inform the country of the mistakes and errors in policy committed by the party in power and to point out what such acts can mean to the future welfare of the country.

An opposition party doesn't really need a concrete program of its own, nor is it expected to be "left" or "right" or "center" or "moderate." It is primarily concerned with ousting from office what it considers—and seeks to make the country believe—is a fumbling, misguided and dangerous party.

To be effective, an opposition party has to be a united party—united on only one thing: How to defeat the party in power. If the leaders of the opposition party spend too much time fighting each other and trying to pick candidates on the basis of particular programs or legislative proposals, the party is doomed to defeat.

For the last two years the Republicans have been quarreling among themselves. They managed to win some state elections recently, but they haven't discovered yet why they won them.

THE TRUTH is in most cases they won by persuading the electorate that it was "time for a change"—that the incumbent governors had made too many mistakes for the good of the states. This is called voting "against the ins and in favor of the outs."

In Great Britain, for example, the opposition is well organized. Year in and year out a "shadow cabinet" is on the job. It consists of men who will not necessarily occupy the same posts if the opposition is victorious at the polls but it does mean that specialists in the work of each department of the executive branch of the government spend full time every day observing and analyzing the news of current proposals—domestic and foreign.

The group consists of knowledgable persons able to speak out and tell the public what's wrong and how much better off the country would be if it only had a different party at the helm.

In this country, the most spectacular example of how an opposition party worked toward eventual success occurred between 1928 and 1932. Herbert Hoover was elected president in 1928 by an overwhelming majority.

The Democrats were discouraged. John Raskob, however, promptly helped to finance the Democratic National Committee and insisted on an opposition strategy. Charles Michelson, well-known nespaperman of his day, was hired to supervise a board of strategy. His finesse and skill soon started an opposition trend in the country.

WHEN ECONOMIC conditions changed for the worse in 1930, the Democrats were able to make the people of the country believe that this was the fault of the Republican administration, though actually it wasn't. Conditions were really turning for the better throughout the world in November 1932, when the country voted the Republican party out of power.

At the time of the national convention in 1932, nobody could be certain who the Democratic candidate would be. In fact, the Raskob group really wanted Al Smith named to head the ticket again. Franklin D. Roosevelt, then governor of New York, had a hard time winning the nomination. He won the November election because the national verdict was against the party in power.

During the campaign, moreover, there was hardly a hint of what later became widely known as the New Deal.

The Republicans of today are confused in their political thinking. They still believe, for instance, that the Negro vote in the North is overwhelmingly Democratic because of the "civil rights" issue, when the truth is the colored voters are much more concerned about pocketbook issues.

Analysts on the staff of Sen. Jacob Javits, R-NY, who was re-elected last month by a big majority, point to the statitics they have gathered which show that he received 34 per cent of the votes in 11 districts in New York City which are predominantly Negro.

Since, in the previous election, he received 32 per cent, this is regarded as a significant increase. Mr. Javits might readily have gotten far more than a 2 per cent increase among Negro voters in New York City—and also attracted more of the conservative votes in other parts of the state—if he had stressed the unemployment issue and economic adversity, past, present and future.

ASPIRANTS for the Republican presidential nomination would fare better by spending more time making speeches of opposition then by fanning the flames of dissension within their own party. The Republicans allow themselves to be divided into factions when their main job, politically speaking, is to tell the country what's really happening to it.

This is especially important at a time when even some of the best friends of the administration are accusing it of "manipulating" the news. The President's virtual monopoly on the air and on the front pages of the newspapers nearly every day isn't the fault of the broadcasters or of the press but is due to the fact that the Republicans don't seem to know how to make news, which is the first lesson a party out of power needs to learn.

Belgian Problem

Two civilizations have been rubbing shoulders uneasily in Belgium for some 1,400 years. Occasionally, the friction flares into hostility.

The Flemings, a Germanic people who speak Dutch, occupy the northern half of Belgium. The Latin Walloons, who speak French, live in the southern half called Wallonia.

Brussels, a bilingual melting pot, recently was the scene of a clash between Fleming and Walloon linguistic nationalists. Flemings marched into the capital to demand what they regard as equal rights and were countered by Walloon demonstrators.

Ethnic differences between Fleming and Walloon are blurred. Moreover, Flemish nationalists often have French names, while Walloon leaders may bear typical Flemish names. Language, however, remains a great divisive force.

In fact, an official "linguistic frontier" runs east and west, dividing Belgium roughly in half. North of the line the official language is Dutch; south of the border, French is official. Slight adjustments made by the Government in this boundary were a factor in the recent riots.

The last language census in Belgium shows that about 53 per cent of the 9,229,000 inhabitants speak mainly Dutch; 42 per cent, French. The others speak German and combinations of the three languages.

The fighting in the remote borderlands of the high Himalayas directly involves 40 per cent of the world population. One out of every four members of the human race lives in Communist China; one out of seven lives in India.

People In News

The Countess of Coventry—the former Mimi Medart of St. Louis, Mo.—won a divorce in London on the ground that her husband misbehaved with an unidentified woman.

Coventry, 28, did not contest the legal action by his wife, 27. They were married in 1955 and have a son, Viscount Deerhurst, 5.

An heir to the extinct Bulgarian throne was born in Madrid, Spain, to Margarita Gomez Acebo, Spanish commoner wife of exiled King Simeon.

The king went to Spain many years ago and married Margarita last Jan. 20 at Lausanne, Switzerland. The child will be named Kardam, prince of Tinovo, a title given only to Bulgarian heir princes.

The President's Commission on Campaign Costs reported expenditures in behalf of all candidates for public office in 1960 totaled $165 to $175 million.

Nine of every 100 families made some form of political financial contribution in the last presidential election, the American Heritage Foundation has disclosed.

Can Russia Earn Confidence?

The new secretary-general of the United Nations, U Thant, is the third to hold the job. His two predecessors, Trygve Lie and Dag Hammarskjold, both went through a gritty process of disenchantment at the hands of the Kremlin.

U Thant's disenchantment has not started yet. He has said flatly in a public speech that the Kremlin has undergone a momentous change which the West has not evaluated properly. He is not expecting disenchantment.

U Thant may never know the scourge of bitter obstructionism that was Secretary-General Lie's punishment for blocking a Communist takeover in Korea, or Secretary-General Hammarskjold's punishment for blocking a takeover in the Congo.

Perhaps there has been a change in the Kremlin so momentous the Soviet Union will become a cooperating member of the United Nations. If U Thant is right and there actually has been a change in the attitude of Soviet leadership, it should show up soon in more ways than those only faintly suggestive of improvement so far.

THE CUBAN crisis was "negotiated."

Tension is said to be tailing off in Berlin.

Inflammatory and abusive statements about the United States have not been reported lately in Russian publications.

These are faint signs of a change for the better.

A strong sign would be willingness to agree on a formula to end the arms race, with allowance for mutual inspection.

A stronger sign would be recantation of the policy to overthrow governments not subservient to the Soviet Union and behavior proving a change of heart, such as withdrawal of spies.

The strongest sign would be a Russian official attitude free from the violent obstructionism that has embittered international relations since the end of World War II.

Under Stalin all these things and more were promised in 1933 in return for U.S. recognition. An exchange of notes between President Roosevelt and Maxim Litvinov, Soviet commissar of foreign affairs, cleared the way for an era of harmony.

U.S. citizens were to be given the same rights in Russia as those of its most favored neighbors. Religious freedom was to be restored. Russia was to abandon attempts to subvert and overthrow other governments.

But once the Kremlin had gained recognition, which is what it wanted, nothing ever was heard of the things it had promised to do.

It will have to earn confidence before it can command confidence.

The U.N. secretary-general may be right; it may be trying to earn confidence. If so, it will command confidence in due time.

Looking Ahead

Only by careful planning can a community hope to move ahead.

It was encouraging, therefore, when representatives of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and members of City Council revived hope of a "master plan" for development at Monday night's Council meeting.

Of particular significance was this statement by George E. Willshaw, chairman of Council's finance committee: "We haven't been able to consider these things previously because of financial difficulties. But now we're getting out of the woods financially."

If the city income tax is allowed to remain in effect for a reasonable period of time, a "master plan" and many other much-needed civic projects are a definite possibility.

Careful planning and adequate finances go and in hand.

Rumor Of A Skirmish In Chicago

One of the first smirmishes of the 1964 presidential campaign occurred in Chicago on Monday when an indeterminate number of conservative Republicans met for an unspecified purpose. Their meeting produced inconclusive results.

Yet out of the inconclusive results grew a strong impression of antipathy for the potential candidacy of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and support for the potential candidacy of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

This the way politics is in the early phases of national campaigns—a series of skirmishes in the half-light of uncertainty involving people of indeterminate identity bearing weapons of vague usefulness.

Sometimes they are hopeful of building up a candidate, sometimes of tearing one down. The Chicago meeting, which was a little hopeful on each point, accomplished neither, barring the possibility it may have lined up an important sum of money to promote Goldwater. This would be significant.

It is unnecessary to line up money to promote Rockefeller, who has his own money, just as John F. Kennedy brought his own to the skirmishing before the battle in 1960 and subsequently, as the Democratic nominee, helped extensively to finance his own campaign. Next to being photogenic, nothing makes a candidate so attractive as a background of seven or more digits.

Thus, whether the objective of the Chicago skirmishers is to stop Rockefeller or promote Goldwater, it's going to take scads of money, political skirmishing being what it is today. Without cash to mold bullets and buy television time to fire them in, the skirmishers run out of oomph so fast no one ever knows they were skirmishing.

Fooling The Gloomer-Doomers

The auto industry is talking seriously about selling seven million cars this year. This would include about a third of a million imports.

The significance of this optimism is the shock it gives to gloomer-doomers who sighed when they looked ahead to a new year in auto sales and feared the worst. They were in full cry last summer.

They conceded the 1963 style year for autos would be good enough as such things go when there's no boom booming. But they doubted if it would be as good as 1962, and when one manufacturer guessed it might be the best ever they clucked in mass consternation.

A fair measure of how fast autos have been moved into the hands of buyers is the $3 billion value placed on the approximately one million cars sold between Oct. 1 and the end of the first full week in November.

This was about 12,000 more cars than were built during the period—and this at the beginning of the style year, when dealers are building up new car inventory!

Purchasers are waiting weeks to get new car deliveries. Demand has put used car values on a firm footing. The stimulus of boom production to meet boom demand is felt in steel and by all other auto suppliers.

What does it mean ?

The gloom-doomers will still be putting on their act when there's nothing to be gloomy-doomy about. But, fortunately, the American public doesn't know when it's "bad off."

It cannot be touted off its confidence by the combined anvil choruses of all the pessimistic politicians and economists combined. When it feels like buying, it buys.

Conversely, when it doesn't feel like buying, it doesn't buy.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

As a gape-mouthed admirer of the First Lady of Our Land I have had to devise a comeback for snarling critics who can say nothing good about her. I observe in a kindly tone: "Go ahead, honey, and eat your jealous heart out if it makes you feel better."

When people ask what makes it possible for my mother, who now has passed her 91st birthday, to look no older than a fraction of that age when she appears in public, I point out that the secret is her hats—always wild, always colorful, always perky. I wish all women would learn this about hats.

One of a thousand things I'd like to be around long enough to see are the closed and covered football fields that will enhance this sport. No more games spoiled by mud, drizzle and cold. The future stadium will be more comfortable than a basketball gymnasium and eventually basketball games, too, will be played there.

The delightful things about caricaturable chief executives is that they become caricatures of themselves in the long run and the sting is taken out of their caricaturing by others. It happened to Herbert Hoover and Harry Truman, and it will happen to John Kennedy as he continues to wave that right arm and discuss "Cuber."

There are so many things to admire about Sir Winston Churchill that the admiration bit is threadbare. There is something extra special about a fellow who customarily belts a soft-boiled egg and a glass of champagne for breakfast as he did on his 88th birthday. Glug!

Only two accidents have occurred to the glasses I have been wearing since I was in the 2nd grade—one when they were temporarily off my face and some fool crushed them underfoot, the other when a dog golfed them with a playful paw during a romp. Yet, people who wear glasses only occasionally have trouble all the time.

With due respects to newspapers for publishing them, I learn more about a variety of subjects from reading letters to editors than I learn from reading what editors say to their readers. The readers cover more ground and in my estimation have much more to say.

Some year I intend to be farsighted about Christmas and not be nagged by a sense of delay. In the meantime, I'll do my Christmas shopping the last few hours of the last shopping day before Christmas and avoid the rush.

It is my feeling that the title "Peace Corps" was a goody-goody tag that did nothing for the original idea and handicaps the organization that has been developed behind it. My preference is "Task Force," and it would be a fine idea to develop some domestic branches to lift the level of civilization in some of our big cities whose slums are reverting to savagery.

I used to eat all Christmas cookies on general principle. Experience has taught me to eat only the ones worth eating and to shun those made only for ornamentation, including the kind with the silver beads that break your teeth.

Declaring An Unexpected Dividend

By Victor Riesel

There certainly will be a railroad strike, I have just been told. I trust my source. He is one of those sitting in on the series of union strategy meetings at Chicago, Cleveland and Washington.

Victor Riesel

The stoppage may paralyze 201,160 miles of track. This would mean that all 195 rail companies would be struck. Or there may be a selective strike. A key road would be hit west of the St. Louis and Chicago terminals, along with one to the east.

These would be immobilized to display the strength of the railway workers' brotherhoods.

The stoppages may come next February or March. Or they may not develop for a year if the Supreme Court intervenes. But if there is a strike, a settlement and peace will follow swiftly.

That settlement will be the formula for the conversion from the era symbolized by the iron horse to the space age, not yet really symbolized by anything but elementary moon ship mock-up.

WITH VARIATIONS on the theme, that formula will reveal what will happen to the tens of thousands of men bumped by space age wizardry. Sooner or later the railroads will reach the day when they can legally lay off 13,000 locomotive firemen, who will go with heavy hearts but not with empty pockets.

Those who have been working on the railroads for five to 10 years will receive a year's notice of layoff. Then they will get a special layoff pay for 3 years. This will come to just under $100 a week for 36 months, the railroad people tell me.

The dismissed men will receive this allowance even if they find other jobs. If they do, they then can keep all the money they earn plus the $100 a week.

They can apply for retraining. The carrier will pay 75 per cent of this cost for two years. At all times the firemen — as well as any of the other thousands who will be laid off — are part of a national railroad hiring pool with preferential rehiring rights.

Those who have less than five years' experience will get from 3 to 12 months' notice of layoff. Then they will receive from 6 to 18 months' severance pay. All can take the money in a lump sum or over the extended period.

The Republicans allow themselves to be divided into factions when their main job, politically speaking, is to tell the country what's really happening to it.

This is especially important at a time when even some of the best friends of the administration are accusing it of "manipulating" the news. The President's virtual monopoly on the air and on the front pages of the newspapers nearly every day isn't the fault of the broadcasters or of the press but is due to the fact that the Republicans don't seem to know how to make news, which is the first lesson a party out of power needs to learn.

Belgian Problem

Two civilizations have been rubbing shoulders uneasily in Belgium for some 1,400 years. Occasionally, the friction flares into hostility.

The Flemings, a Germanic people who speak Dutch, occupy the northern half of Belgium. The Latin Walloons, who speak French, live in the southern half called Wallonia.

Brussels, a bilingual melting pot, recently was the scene of a clash between Fleming and Walloon linguistic nationalists. Flemings marched into the capital to demand what they regard as equal rights and were countered by Walloon demonstrators.

Ethnic differences between Fleming and Walloon are blurred. Moreover, Flemish nationalists often have French names, while Walloon leaders may bear typical Flemish names. Language, however, remains a great divisive force.

In fact, an official "linguistic frontier" runs east and west, dividing Belgium roughly in half. North of the line the official language is Dutch; south of the border, French is official. Slight adjustments made by the Government in this boundary were a factor in the recent riots.

The last language census in Belgium shows that about 53 per cent of the 9,229,000 inhabitants speak mainly Dutch; 42 per cent, French. The others speak German and combinations of the three languages.

The fighting in the remote borderlands of the high Himalayas directly involves 40 per cent of the world population. One out of every four members of the human race lives in Communist China; one out of seven lives in India.

Church Supply Concern's Progress Told Rotarians

The National Church Supply Co. of Chester has made significant progress in the last five years in efforts to create a better product and keep abreast of stiff competition, Charles D. Taylor, president, told the Rotary Club Tuesday.

Operating in a new building in a countryside area on Route 30, the company produces envelopes for 33,000 churches across the nation, Taylor told the club at its meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

The plant is highly - automated, but the main concern at present is packaging a basic set of envelopes in cartons — a costly process now done by hand by employes, Taylor explained.

The number of different envelopes used for both regular and special occasions by the customers complicate the packaging process, Taylor pointed out.

National Church manufactures 700 various church envelopes, differing in size, color, pockets, openings, messages and pictures.

A feature on each collection envelope is a picture of the church of the customer, designed by Cyril Taylor, father of the company president and a veteran of many years in the business.

The company has at least 12 competitors, and business is seasonal, reaching a peak in the fall and winter months to fill orders for the new church years each January, Taylor said.

New, automatic equipment has been installed in the factory on the old Stewart farm to speed up production from start to finish. But packaging of the finished product remains a manual process, he explained.

Taylor said communications is an important part of the operation, an elaborate equipment is part of the improved headquarters, including an automatic dialer, 10 telephone trunk circuits and 70 inter-com phones.

Taylor narrated a program of color slides of company operations, illustrating work in the bookkeeping and printing departments and other phases.

F. Lewis Alder, vice president, talked briefly on a new monthly mailing plan in which churches receive several types of envelopes for a particular month, with the envelopes serving as reminders for special occasions resulting in increased contributions.

The company also publishes a guide for instructing church treasurers on their duties, Taylor said.

The speaker was introduced by Sidney C. Porter Jr., president.

tion to disburse the money, rather than an actual shortage of funds, that caused the delay in issuing the street department payroll. Council's appropriations constitute the auditor's legal authority to approve expenditures.

Applegate said the street department appropriation for salaries and wages has been exhausted since the last payroll was met Nov. 20 for the first half of November.

Councilman George E. Willshaw, finance committee chairman, referred to the lack of street department payroll funds in a report to Council Monday night. However, he said it did not mean that the street department payroll could not be met on time.

The dearth of funds meant only that more money will have to be transferred, the committee chairman said. He apparently expected the auditor would meet the payroll today on Council's promise to provide the funds later.

An amended appropriation ordinance which was to have taken care of most required year-end fund transfers was enacted by Council at two special meetings Nov. 25 and 27. It was a result of finance committee conferences with the auditor Nov. 21.

Willshaw said the finance committee "didn't get a true picture" of the funds Nov. 21 because "some accounts hadn't been turned over to the (auditor's) chief clerk for posting."

Willshaw said that in the Nov. 21 meeting with the auditor he asked on three occasions if there were any other funds that should be supplemented and the auditor replied each time in the negative.

This was despite the fact the street department payroll fund actually was overdrawn at that time, he said.

Applegate said he will issue the street department pay checks tomorrow morning, provided Council appropriates the funds tonight.

He said none of the employes criticized him for the holdup in pay checks today. Three or four commented that they "understand that money can't be paid out if it's not appropriated," he said.

"I deplore the situation more than anyone," Applegate said. "But I can't let my personal feelings go against the law of Ohio."

Applegate said he sent a letter to Council explaining he could not meet the street department payroll without additional funds. However, no letter from the auditor was read to Council Monday.

Applegate exhibited a copy of the letter, in which he said: "The law is abundantly clear when it reads the auditor should not allow the amount set aside for any appropriation to be overdrawn."

Applegate recalled he wrote to Council in mid-September pointing out that the street department appropriation would be exhausted before the end of 1962 because payroll expenses were exceeding appropriations by about $900 monthly.

At that time, it appeared the payroll fund would be overdrawn by about $7,500 at the end of the year, he said. Now, because of pay raises that took effect Saturday, it appears the deficit will be larger, he said.

Applegate's letter also continued this statement: "There are no funds now to pay the street department. Unless money is appropriated prior to Wednesday, the payroll cannot be met."

More Lie Tests Set In Probe Of Police

CLEVELAND (AP) — More lie detector tests were scheduled today in the investigation of alleged involvement of police officers in a series of West Side thefts.

Ten policemen were implicated by William Marlowe, 40, a veteran of 11 years on the police force, who police said had admitted taking an estimated $3,000 in thefts from places on his beat over the last 18 months.

Two officers took lie detector tests Tuesday. Two more were scheduled to take the tests today, and two have refused to take tests, police officials said.

Chamber Lists Legal Points On Unordered Merchandise

Answering queries it said were prompted by an increase in the volume of unordered merchandise East Liverpool householders have received through the mail recently, the Chamber of Commerce today cited seven legal points covering the recipient's obligations.

The Chamber's Better Business section said the volume of unordered merchandise has stepped up because of the holiday season. Many persons have received boxes of Christmas cards which they did not order. Books have been shipped to others.

The Chamber said these legal points cover such merchandise:

Recipients of unordered merchandise are not obliged to acknowledge receipt, although it may be accompanied by a notice that a reply is necessary.

Recipients of such mailings are not required to return the merchandise, although they sometimes are told they must pay for it or send it back.

Unordered merchandise need not be paid for unless it is used.

Persons who received unordered merchandise are not required to give it any particular or unusual care, although it should not be abused deliberately. The recipient is not under obligation to take particular pains for its general upkeep.

A person mailed such merchandise is not required to keep it beyond "a reasonable period of time." After it has been kept a "reasonable" time, it may be thrown away or destroyed.

If the sender of the unordered merchandise, or his agent, calls at the home of the recipient and requests the merchandise, the recipient is required to surrender it. In doing so, he may demand payment for storage charges.

When unordered merchandise is mailed by a charitable organiation, recipients who believe in giving wisely may wish to ascertain essential facts about the organization before making payment. Information on the organizations may be obtained from the Chamber.

Offer Floods Mails On Sewing Machine

The Chamber of Commerce said today its office has been besieged with telephone calls from East Liverpool housewives who have received letters from a Canton firm telling them that they have won a sewing machine which they may obtain by purchasing a matching cabinet for $39.50.

The Chamber said it suggests persons interested in buying sewing machines shop in East Liverpool, where there is assurance of local service after the sale. No local firm is authorized to service the machine offered by the Canton company, it said.

District Court Studies Case Of Lisbon Firm

LISBON — The 7th District Court of Appeals, in session Tuesday at Youngstown, took under advisement an appeal filed in connection with a Common Pleas Court dismissal of gambling law indictments against the Lisbon Salesbook Co. and its officers.

Judge Joel H. Sharp dismissed the indictments Dec. 14, 1961, against the Lisbon firm, ruling the law applying to the manufacture of printing of gambling slips is unconstitutional.

Schools Set To Close Due To Levies Defeat

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Schools in Springfield Twp. were to be closed starting today as the result of voters' failure to pass operating levies.

The closing action, by the township board of education, affects four schools accommodating 2,150 students. The district is scheduled to vote Dec. 11 on a 3-mill levy which was rejected in the Nov. 6 election.

Earlier, the board of education in nearby Oregon voted to close its schools because an operating levy was rejected but later rescinded the action.

Increased costs and enrollment have caused a financial crisis, said Schools Superintendent H. L. Oberdorf. He said the present trend indicates the Springfield school system would be $30,000 in debt if it continues operating without the levy.

She lived in a city housing project, Farragut Houses in the Brooklyn Navy Yard section, with her father, Carlos, a porter; her mother, Margaret, and six brothers and sisters.

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo

BY LUCRECE BEALE

CHAPTER THREE

For three days and three nights Mr. Shnoo worked with the reindeer but he could not teach them to fly.

"You can do it! You can!" insisted Mr. Shnoo. He spread his arms and leaped from rock to rock to show them what he wanted of them.

The reindeer were anxious to please. They listened to Mr. Shnoo's instructions; they ran to and fro; they even leaped over the low fence he built. But that is as near as they came to flying.

Mr. Shnoo set up a movie screen and showed the deer a movie of Santa Claus in his sleigh being carried over the rooftops by eight soaring reindeer.

"There!" exclaimed Mr. Shnoo. "If they can do it so can you."

THE DEER stared at the screen in astonishment. They could not believe that the graceful creatures skimming above the clouds were the same as themselves. When the picture was over they looked at one another in wonder but they were still earthbound and could not fly.

Mr. Shnoo took Horace, the herd leader, to the bird cage and left him there the whole day to watch the birds skimming among the trees.

At the end of the day Horace had gained nothing but a crick in the neck from holding his head back so long. Mr. Shnoo rubbed Horace's neck with reindeer liniment oil. The next day he took him to the monkey cages.

"See, even monkeys can do it!" said Mr. Shnoo. "And they don't have wings."

Sure enough, the monkeys were gliding from bar to bar as if flying were the easiest thing in the world. The funny - faced creatures screamed at Horace, laughing at him for his great solid bulk that he couldn't lift off the ground.

Back in the reindeer enclosure, Horace was very sad and all the other reindeer were sad, too. They knew they were not beautiful and now they felt they were failures. Mr. Shnoo saw how they felt and he was filed with remorse.

He put his arm around Horace's thick neck. "Never mind," he murmured. "You are as you are. You needn't try to fly anymore."

He spread his arms to show what he wanted of them.

He gave all the deer an extra big feeding and patted each one on his soft muzzle. Then he went to his office to send a message to Santa Claus.

THEN HE went off to bed for it was late and he was very tired after all his efforts. He was cheerful but he couldn't help feeling disappointed. He had so wanted his deer to shine. And, of course, he had wanted very much to help Santa because it isn't every day that Santa asks help from anyone.

"Whatever will Santa do now?" wondered Mr. Shnoo.

He went to sleep and while he slept he had a dream. He dreamed that the reindeer — his own Shnoo's Zoo reindeer — were flying, all on their own, without the slightest difficulty. The dream was so real and so powerful it woke him and he popped out of bed crying, "Could it really be?"

He shook his head and got back under the covers. "What nonsense!" he grumbled. A minute later he was out of bed again pulling on his trousers. "I'll just go have a look anyway," he said to himself. "Perhaps the poor creatures are in trouble."

He ran out of the house and off to the reindeer enclosure. There, by the light of the noon, he saw the most extraordinary sight.

The reindeer were not just flying — they were soaring! They somersaulted; they made hairpin turns; they shot down; they skimmed the earth and surged heavenward again. They flew in formation; they flew solo; they zigzagged; they coasted. They hung motionless in the center of the heaven.

Mr. Shnoo rubbed his eyes. "Crookshank is right," he murmured. "I'm out of my head."

Deadline Set Dec. 14 For Wheat Program

LISBON — Clifford F. Shaw, chairman of the Columbiana County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, today reminded wheat farmers that Dec. 14 is the last date to enter the wheat stabilization program for the 1963 crop year.

Since payment rate notices were mailed out Nov. 8, a total of 152 farmers have signed to divert part or all of their wheat acreage to conservation uses, he said.

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo

BY LUCRECE BEALE

CHAPTER THREE

For three days and three nights Mr. Shnoo worked with the reindeer but he could not teach them to fly.

"You can do it! You can!" insisted Mr. Shnoo. He spread his arms and leaped from rock to rock to show them what he wanted of them.

The reindeer were anxious to please. They listened to Mr. Shnoo's instructions; they ran to and fro; they even leaped over the low fence he built. But that is as near as they came to flying.

Mr. Shnoo set up a movie screen and showed the deer a movie of Santa Claus in his sleigh being carried over the rooftops by eight soaring reindeer.

"There!" exclaimed Mr. Shnoo. "If they can do it so can you."

THE DEER stared at the screen in astonishment. They could not believe that the graceful creatures skimming above the clouds were the same as themselves. When the picture was over they looked at one another in wonder but they were still earthbound and could not fly.

Mr. Shnoo took Horace, the herd leader, to the bird cage and left him there the whole day to watch the birds skimming among the trees.

At the end of the day Horace had gained nothing but a crick in the neck from holding his head back so long. Mr. Shnoo rubbed Horace's neck with reindeer liniment oil. The next day he took him to the monkey cages.

"See, even monkeys can do it!" said Mr. Shnoo. "And they don't have wings."

Sure enough, the monkeys were gliding from bar to bar as if flying were the easiest thing in the world. The funny - faced creatures screamed at Horace, laughing at him for his great solid bulk that he couldn't lift off the ground.

Back in the reindeer enclosure, Horace was very sad and all the other reindeer were sad, too. They knew they were not beautiful and now they felt they were failures. Mr. Shnoo saw how they felt and he was filed with remorse.

He put his arm around Horace's thick neck. "Never mind," he murmured. "You are as you are. You needn't try to fly anymore."

He spread his arms to show what he wanted of them.

He gave all the deer an extra big feeding and patted each one on his soft muzzle. Then he went to his office to send a message to Santa Claus.

THEN HE went off to bed for it was late and he was very tired after all his efforts. He was cheerful but he couldn't help feeling disappointed. He had so wanted his deer to shine. And, of course, he had wanted very much to help Santa because it isn't every day that Santa asks help from anyone.

argued that wives attending business dinners have as much right to eat on the expense account as does the First Lady and wives of American ambassadors.

Wesley M. Chandler, a St. Paul Manufacturer of burial vaults, predicted dire results if a new tax law is interpreted as prohibiting expense deductions for the cost of having wives attend business entertainment functions.

Court Denies Release For Murder Suspect

The Beaver County Court today denied a writ of habeas corpus sought by Clarence E. Burroughs, 40, of Rochester, who was indicted by the recent Grand Jury on a murder charge in the death of William (Duke) Snyder, 62 of Wampum R. D. 2.

The court ordered Burroughs to stand trial. Peter Steege, assistant district attorney, said that if Burroughs' counsel does not appeal the case to the Supreme Court, he, Steege, will ask for the defendant's examination by a sanity board in order that the question of insanity will not come up during the trial.

Burroughs had sought release from jail. He was re-arrested Oct. 21 after Snyder's body was finally found after being missing since Aug. 12. If the case is appealed, the trial may not be held until the next term.

Verdict

"She did a wrong, we told you that at the outset," Springer said to the jury, "She did what her boss told her to, what another person using his brains would have refused to do."

"She told you her story," he said, "you saw her bank accounts, her pay record, she told you herself about her going to the race track. We tried to show you she didn't take any of the money."

Places No Blame

Springer said, "The state has tried to have her say Frank Robinson took the money — she has steadfastly denied it, she doesn't blame anyone, she doesn't know.

"There is only one issue in the case: did she take the money? The state," Springer concluded, "has failed to prove that she did, that the money faded away like a wisp of smoke."

Assistant Prosecutor Joseph Baronzzi declared Springer had offered two defenses — "sympathy" and "try the other man."

Baronzzi referred to Miss Smith's reputation for honesty prior to the shortages, and said no one who was suspect would obtain a position where funds could be taken.

Unaccounted Amount

Brokaw said that even had a robbery of $11,000 occurred, Miss Smith was unable to account for the additional $12,000 found missing in the state audit.

"That is the central theme of the state's case," he said. "We are not concerned with the picayune shortages in the girls' cash boxes, we don't contend Roberta Smith took those amounts. We are concerned only with the money she charged to herself, and she 'doesn't know what happened to it'."

"I can't believe that a man with 44 years in public service and in the twilight of his career would take the money or would be crooked enough to tell her to cover up," Brokaw said, referring to the late Frank Robinson.

Sympathy For Family

"She comes from a fine family," the prosecutor said of Miss Smith, declaring he had gone to school with her brother and had known her brother-in-law for years.

"I have sympathy for her family, but not for her."

"I ask you to try this case with your heads, not your hearts," he concluded.

The prosecutor told the jury he was not recommending a sum for the panel to set as the embezzlement figure, which is required in event of a verdict of guilty.

The lengthy trial, now in its seventh day, saw a total of 29 witnesses appear in Courtroom No. 1.

Drama In Trial

For the most part, testimony centered on bookkeeping methods, office procedures and routine matters, but at times the trial was marked by moments of drama, such as when the widow of Mr. Robinson testified or the mother of the defendant took the stand.

On the jury are Corene Thiemecke, Nevada Laitsch and Floyd Shaw of East Liverpool; George Smart of Wellsville, Annabelle Guy and Dorothy Keller of East Palestine, Edith Caudill, Mary Gregg, Ruth Schmid and Edna Fenneman of Salem; Freda Feldman of Salineville and Harold Roberts of Columbiana. Mildred Hussar of Rogers was alternate.

Metering

move the meters from the municipal parking lot on the site of the former Ceramic Theater, as they are not the 10-hour type required there, Owen explained. Placed on Market St. and Dresden Ave., they will be converted to conventional two-hour operation.

On the Ceramic lot, the meters will be replaced with a 10-hour type which has yet to arrive from the factory.

In the initial phase of the change-over, no meters will be installed on the Diamond. Eventually, the Diamond curb will be lined with "redhead" meters, which allow a maximum of one hour's parking for a 10-cent fee, Owen said.

Market St. and Dresden Ave. spaces will be laid out with so-called Hollywood-type parking areas, allowing motorists more space to maneuver, he said. The parking spaces will be kept back the prescribed distance from alley entrances and other intersections, the director said.

The Wells High School Band, Cub Scouts and Santa Claus will appear in the procession that will move to the Newell fire station where Christmas treats will be provided for Newell youngsters only.

The parade will begin at 6, the groups decided.

Auditor Awaits New Tax Rates

LISBON — Auditor Kenneth Bell said today he expects to have the new tax rates approved by the state and returned to his office by Friday.

He said he does not expect that the scheduled Dec. 20 collection date will be met this year since the new rates will have to be figured and two school districts of Mahoning County that included parts of Columbiana County still do not have their rates set as yet, due to trouble in the recent tax appraisal in Mahoning.

Bell said the earliest he expects the new real estate collection to start will be about March 1, since the figures of all taxes will have to be changed.

Treasurer Vincent C. Judge said that regardless of when the tax collection starts he would allow at least 45 days for the collection and any complaints over the new rates. The new reappraisal goes into effect for this collection.

80 Given TB Tests

First - round immunizations will be given Monday to kindergarten and third grade pupils at McKinley School here. The Mantoux test was given Monday to 166 eighth graders at the Beaver Local Elementary School near Williamsport.

Motors, contending Hilltop's bids are "too high."

Lyle F. Virden and James Finley, fellow commissioners, are seeking a writ of mandamus to compel Graham to sign checks for payment of the two vehicles. A hearing is scheduled on the mandamus action Dec. 14 before Judge Ralph E. Pryor.

Finley and Virden have also asked that Prosecuting Atty. Floyd R. Tarr force Graham to resign as president, although they do not ask that he be removed from office.

After suggesting that Graham give up his duties as president temporarily, Atty. Pietranton added that Graham could lodge any objections against the auto transaction in the court records.

"In this way, your objections would be on record and made public" and Hilltop Motors could receive their money without incurring further costs.

Inquiring as to why he would not sign the checks for the two vehicles, Atty. Pietranton was told by Graham that the bids are "too high."

Graham went on to declare that he feels the issue is settled in the lower court body, and a decision now rests with Judge Pryor in Circuit Court.

Atty. Pietranton told Graham, "I inform you now, sir, that if anymore damage is done to my client, I will take action accordingly."

The running feud between the three Democratic commissioners on the vehicle purchase started Sept. 4 when bids were received from Hilltop Motors and Highland Motors.

Finley and Virden, apparently satisfied with Hilltop's bid, voted to award the motor agency a contract for two cruisers. Graham objected and has since refused to authorize payment.

The prosecutor has ruled that Finley and Virden have the authority to award the contract to Hilltop Motors by overriding Graham's dissenting vote, 2-1. However, only Graham can authorize payment as president of the three commissioners.

Paul Sowers, manager of Hilltop Motors, presented the keys to the two Studebaker cruisers Tuesday at the commissioners' meeting in New Cumberland, and parked the vehicles nearby. The cars remained parked behind the Courthouse when it closed Tuesday afternoon.

The commissioners are also at disagreement on a project of sandblasting the 40 - year - old Courthouse building.

Virden and Finley have voted that a contract be awarded to the P. N. Spanos Co. of Wheeling for the project. Graham dissented.

Spanos bid $6,450 and the Pittsburgh Building Service Co.'s bid of $7,480 was rejected. The bids were received Nov. 4 and the two commissioners later voted to award the contract to Spanos.

The funds for the sandblasting project are to be appropriated from a special fund set aside for Courthouse improvements. However, the original fund of $6,500 has dwindled to $6,023.71—short by several hundred dollars of the bid of Spanos.

A discussion was held yesterday on drawing on a contingency fund the necessary money to allow Spanos to proceed with the work, but no decision was reached.

The infant was stillborn Tuesday at 9:40 a. m. at City Hospital.

In addition to her parents, she leaves three brothers, Kenneth Kacko, David Kacko and Mark Kacko, all at the home, and the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Susan Kacko of Monaca.

The infant was stillborn Tuesday at 10:53 a. m. at City Hospital.

Besides the parents, he leaves the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Eccleston, the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Dorothy Moore, the maternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Eccleston, and the paternal great - grandmother, Mrs. Edna Williams, all of East Liverpool.

The Dawson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

argued that wives attending business dinners have as much right to eat on the expense account as does the First Lady and wives of American ambassadors.

Wesley M. Chandler, a St. Paul Manufacturer of burial vaults, predicted dire results if a new tax law is interpreted as prohibiting expense deductions for the cost of having wives attend business entertainment functions.

Court Denies Release For Murder Suspect

The Beaver County Court today denied a writ of habeas corpus sought by Clarence E. Burroughs, 40, of Rochester, who was indicted by the recent Grand Jury on a murder charge in the death of William (Duke) Snyder, 62 of Wampum R. D. 2.

The court ordered Burroughs to stand trial. Peter Steege, assistant district attorney, said that if Burroughs' counsel does not appeal the case to the Supreme Court, he, Steege, will ask for the defendant's examination by a sanity board in order that the question of insanity will not come up during the trial.

Burroughs had sought release from jail. He was re-arrested Oct. 21 after Snyder's body was finally found after being missing since Aug. 12. If the case is appealed, the trial may not be held until the next term.

Verdict

into her responsibility, that she had falsified records, that "she had lost herself."

"She did a wrong, we told you that at the outset," Springer said to the jury, "She did what her boss told her to, what another person using his brains would have refused to do."

"She told you her story," he said, "you saw her bank accounts, her pay record, she told you herself about her going to the race track. We tried to show you she didn't take any of the money."

Places No Blame

Springer said, "The state has tried to have her say Frank Robinson took the money — she has steadfastly denied it, she doesn't blame anyone, she doesn't know.

"There is only one issue in the case: did she take the money? The state," Springer concluded, "has failed to prove that she did, that the money faded away like a wisp of smoke."

Assistant Prosecutor Joseph Baronzzi declared Springer had offered two defenses — "sympathy" and "try the other man."

Baronzzi referred to Miss Smith's reputation for honesty prior to the shortages, and said no one who was suspect would obtain a position where funds could be taken.

Unaccounted Amount

Brokaw said that even had a robbery of $11,000 occurred, Miss Smith was unable to account for the additional $12,000 found missing in the state audit.

"That is the central theme of the state's case," he said. "We are not concerned with the picayune shortages in the girls' cash boxes, we don't contend Roberta Smith took those amounts. We are concerned only with the money she charged to herself, and she 'doesn't know what happened to it'."

"I can't believe that a man with 44 years in public service and in the twilight of his career would take the money or would be crooked enough to tell her to cover up," Brokaw said, referring to the late Frank Robinson.

Sympathy For Family

"She comes from a fine family," the prosecutor said of Miss Smith, declaring he had gone to school with her brother and had known her brother-in-law for years.

"I have sympathy for her family, but not for her."

"I ask you to try this case with your heads, not your hearts," he concluded.

The prosecutor told the jury he was not recommending a sum for the panel to set as the embezzlement figure, which is required in event of a verdict of guilty.

The lengthy trial, now in its seventh day, saw a total of 29 witnesses appear in Courtroom No. 1.

Drama In Trial

For the most part, testimony centered on bookkeeping methods, office procedures and routine matters, but at times the trial was marked by moments of drama, such as when the widow of Mr. Robinson testified or the mother of the defendant took the stand.

On the jury are Corene Thiemecke, Nevada Laitsch and Floyd Shaw of East Liverpool; George Smart of Wellsville, Annabelle Guy and Dorothy Keller of East Palestine, Edith Caudill, Mary Gregg, Ruth Schmid and Edna Fenneman of Salem; Freda Feldman of Salineville and Harold Roberts of Columbiana. Mildred Hussar of Rogers was alternate.

move the meters from the municipal parking lot on the site of the former Ceramic Theater, as they are not the 10-hour type required there, Owen explained. Placed on Market St. and Dresden Ave., they will be converted to conventional two-hour operation.

On the Ceramic lot, the meters will be replaced with a 10-hour type which has yet to arrive from the factory.

In the initial phase of the change-over, no meters will be installed on the Diamond. Eventually, the Diamond curb will be lined with "redhead" meters, which allow a maximum of one hour's parking for a 10-cent fee, Owen said.

Market St. and Dresden Ave. spaces will be laid out with so-called Hollywood-type parking areas, allowing motorists more space to maneuver, he said. The parking spaces will be kept back the prescribed distance from alley entrances and other intersections, the director said.

Auditor Awaits New Tax Rates

LISBON — Auditor Kenneth Bell said today he expects to have the new tax rates approved by the state and returned to his office by Friday.

He said he does not expect that the scheduled Dec. 20 collection date will be met this year since the new rates will have to be figured and two school districts of Mahoning County that included parts of Columbiana County still do not have their rates set as yet, due to trouble in the recent tax appraisal in Mahoning.

Bell said the earliest he expects the new real estate collection to start will be about March 1, since the figures of all taxes will have to be changed.

Treasurer Vincent C. Judge said that regardless of when the tax collection starts he would allow at least 45 days for the collection and any complaints over the new rates. The new reappraisal goes into effect for this collection.

80 Given TB Tests

Motors, contending Hilltop's bids are "too high."

Lyle F. Virden and James Finley, fellow commissioners, are seeking a writ of mandamus to compel Graham to sign checks for payment of the two vehicles. A hearing is scheduled on the mandamus action Dec. 14 before Judge Ralph E. Pryor.

Finley and Virden have also asked that Prosecuting Atty. Floyd R. Tarr force Graham to resign as president, although they do not ask that he be removed from office.

After suggesting that Graham give up his duties as president temporarily, Atty. Pietranton added that Graham could lodge any objections against the auto transaction in the court records.

"In this way, your objections would be on record and made public" and Hilltop Motors could receive their money without incurring further costs.

Inquiring as to why he would not sign the checks for the two vehicles, Atty. Pietranton was told by Graham that the bids are "too high."

Graham went on to declare that he feels the issue is settled in the lower court body, and a decision now rests with Judge Pryor in Circuit Court.

Atty. Pietranton told Graham, "I inform you now, sir, that if anymore damage is done to my client, I will take action accordingly."

The running feud between the three Democratic commissioners on the vehicle purchase started Sept. 4 when bids were received from Hilltop Motors and Highland Motors.

Finley and Virder, apparently satisfied with Hilltop's bid, voted to award the motor agency a contract for two cruisers. Graham objected and has since refused to authorize payment.

The prosecutor has ruled that Finley and Virden have the authority to award the contract to Hilltop Motors by overriding Graham's dissenting vote, 2-1. However, only Graham can authorize payment as president of the three commissioners.

Paul Sowers, manager of Hilltop Motors, presented the keys to the two Studebaker cruisers Tuesday at the commissioners' meeting in New Cumberland, and parked the vehicles nearby. The cars remained parked behind the Courthouse when it closed Tuesday afternoon.

The commissioners are also at disagreement on a project of sandblasting the 40 - year - old Courthouse building.

Virden and Finley have voted that a contract be awarded to the P. N. Spanos Co. of Wheeling for the project. Graham dissented.

Spanos bid $6,450 and the Pittsburgh Building Service Co.'s bid of $7,480 was rejected. The bids were received Nov. 4 and the two commissioners later voted to award the contract to Spanos.

The funds for the sandblasting project are to be appropriated from a special fund set aside for Courthouse improvements. However, the original fund of $6,500 has dwindled to $6,023.71—short by several hundred dollars of the bid of Spanos.

A discussion was held yesterday on drawing on a contingency fund the necessary money to allow Spanos to proceed with the work, but no decision was reached.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children Should Respect Property

Over the years I have occasionally entreated parents not to let their children play freely in and about houses and other buildings under construction. The same rule should apply to empty buildings. This letter recently came from a mother in Florida: "Not only do children find a great fascination for houses and buildings under construction, but they delight in empty houses. "We live in a low-cost housing development and a lot of the houses have gone back to the FHA. "One, in particular, is located on the street in back of us. The neighborhood children have ripped the screen out of the porch and gained admittance into the house. They play inside the house in full view of all parents.

Dr. Garry Meyers

"THE BUSHES HAVE been trampled and ripped up, windows broken and all kinds of trash thrown on top of the roof. The house is terrible - looking."

From what we read we may get the impression that it's only the children from "across the tracks" who come into the better economic areas to carry on such destruction. But you and I know that many children in the areas most favored economically, many children from the so - called best homes, enter empty buildings and commit all sorts of vandalism in and about these buildings.

While we parents wish to keep in mind the rights of other persons and their possessions, this objective is not comparable in importance to the attitudes and habits growing in our children.

Property can be restored or replaced. But who will restore moral fiber in the child who deliberately mars or destroys the property of others, even if only an empty building?

FROM THE TIME your tot or mine begins to toddle, let us educate him by precept and example not to play near nor to enter any empty building unless accompanied by a responsible person and informed that permission to be at or near such a place has been secured.

It's not enough just to be exemplary and to talk and explain to our growing children about such matters. We need to be vigilant and make sure that our child does not engage in entering or harming in any way an empty building.

Our task won't be easy for some other children with whom our children play won't be held up to such standards of citizenship. Instead of forbidding our children to play with these other children, we need to make sure, if possible, that our children are not with them while they enter or mar empty buildings.

Of course, our hope is to guide our children in due regard for the rights and possessions of others, while growing up with us in the family, beginning this education as soon as they begin to toddle.

WE DO THIS IN situations which occur daily right in our presence. When we see a clear case of appropriating or harming another person's possessions, we need to act decisively, making sure the act is met with strong discomfort.

Also, we need to help the child enjoy being considerate of the rights of other persons first in the family, then beyond the family.

My bulletins, "Teaching Child Care of Property", "How to Teach Child Meaning of No" and "Celebrate Your Child's Successes", may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Presbytery Urges Strict Enforcement

Police throughout the Northern Panhandle were urged Monday by the Wheeling Presbytery to enforce strictly laws governing vice, gambling and sale of alcohol.

The Presbytery asked strict enforcement after going on record to commend the Wheeling police force for its law enforcement campaign when it met at the Second United Presbyterian Church in Wheeling.

The Presbytery also elected the Rev. Richard Jones of the Moundsville First Church as moderator, succeeding C. C. Phipps of Warwood.

Plans were made to install the Rev. Robert Stuart as assistant pastor of the Van Memorial church of Wheeling on Sunday morning and the Rev. George Day as pastor of the United Presbyterian Church, also of Wheeling, on Sunday night.

Attending from northern Hancock County were the Rev. C. Donald Vogel, pastor of the Chester First church; the Rev. William Flurkey, Pughtown Fairview; the Rev. William Claghorn, Chester Westminster, the Rev. Charles Haddock of the Newell First church, and Clifford Comm, an elder of the Westminster church.

Wellsville Motorist Cited After Collision

A Wellsville man was cited for a traffic violation after a two-car collision on Route 7 at the intersection of County Rd. 427 just east of Wellsville Monday at 9:30 a. m.

The Lisbon State Highway Patrol said the crash involved cars driven by William Brown, 67, of 18th St., Wellsville, and Homer H. Wires, 40, of 131 W. Church Ln.

Brown turned north into the path of the Wires' vehicle, officers said. Brown was cited for reckless operation.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Tall Girls Have Thinner Waistlines

With American girls growing taller, feminine proportions are changing. When the added inches lengthen the middle measurement, the waist is slimmer — giving the long stemmed willowy silhouette. For this type figure, the waistline is smaller in proportion to the bust measurement. Hips may or may not be more streamlined.

Ida Jean Kain

A column dealing with proportions gave three differences: waistline 7½ to 8½ inches less than the bust measurement and hips 1 to 3 inches more than the bust circumference.

Some readers with better than average figures ask whether these proportionate differences represent the average or the ideal. One young woman gave these measurements: Bust 36, waist 24, hips 36. Ah! Another had this combination of pulchritude and streamlines: Bust 36, waist 22, hips 35.

AN ULTRA streamlined waist can be 10, 12 and even 14 inches less than the bust measurement, and the hips can measure the same as the bust, or an inch less. Such elegant proportions, however, are the rare exception, and possible only at streamlined weight.

The average woman has a shorter and less slender waist. Unhappily, the waist seems to be the line of least resistance to embonpoint. A 7½ to 8½ inch difference between bust and the waist is within reach of most women whose weight is reasonably normal.

With streamlining exercises, a waistline 9 or even 10 inches less than the curve of the bust can be a dream come true. But 12 inches less? That is possible only for the tall, long-stemmed figure.

We inherit a certain build and this governs our proportions. With weight at normal and health up to par, the bust is according to nature's plan for our structure. The bust is the measurement used as a gauge in figuring proportions.

In the average figure, a waistline 8 inches less than the bust makes for pleasing proportions. The hip measurement varies with the body type. Only with ultra streamlines will the hips measure the same or less than the bust measurement. Hips that measure one to two inches larger are fashionably slim.

TO ACHIEVE the best proportions for your build, weight is the starting point. Too many pounds or too few can throw all measurements out of kilter.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children Should Respect Property

Over the years I have occasionally entreated parents not to let their children play freely in and about houses and other buildings under construction. The same rule should apply to empty buildings. This letter recently came from a mother in Florida: "Not only do children find a great fascination for houses and buildings under construction, but they delight in empty houses. "We live in a low-cost housing development and a lot of the houses have gone back to the FHA. "One, in particular, is located on the street in back of us. The neighborhood children have ripped the screen out of the porch and gained admittance into the house. They play inside the house in full view of all parents.

"THE BUSHES HAVE been trampled and ripped up, windows broken and all kinds of trash thrown on top of the roof. The house is terrible - looking."

From what we read we may get the impression that it's only the children from "across the tracks" who come into the better economic areas to carry on such destruction. But you and I know that many children in the areas most favored economically, many children from the so - called best homes, enter empty buildings and commit all sorts of vandalism in and about these buildings.

While we parents wish to keep in mind the rights of other persons and their possessions, this objective is not comparable in importance to the attitudes and habits growing in our children.

Property can be restored or replaced. But who will restore moral fiber in the child who deliberately mars or destroys the property of others, even if only an empty building?

FROM THE TIME your tot or mine begins to toddle, let us educate him by precept and example not to play near nor to enter any empty building unless accompanied by a responsible person and informed that permission to be at or near such a place has been secured.

It's not enough just to be exemplary and to talk and explain to our growing children about such matters. We need to be vigilant and make sure that our child does not engage in entering or harming in any way an empty building.

Our task won't be easy for some other children with whom our children play won't be held up to such standards of citizenship. Instead of forbidding our children to play with these other children, we need to make sure, if possible, that our children are not with them while they enter or mar empty buildings.

Of course, our hope is to guide our children in due regard for the rights and possessions of others, while growing up with us in the family, beginning this education as soon as they begin to toddle.

WE DO THIS IN situations which occur daily right in our presence. When we see a clear case of appropriating or harming another person's possessions, we need to act decisively, making sure the act is met with strong discomfort.

Also, we need to help the child enjoy being considerate of the rights of other persons first in the family, then beyond the family.

My bulletins, "Teaching Child Care of Property", "How to Teach Child Meaning of No" and "Celebrate Your Child's Successes", may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Tall Girls Have Thinner Waistlines

With American girls growing taller, feminine proportions are changing. When the added inches lengthen the middle measurement, the waist is slimmer — giving the long stemmed willowy silhouette. For this type figure, the waistline is smaller in proportion to the bust measurement. Hips may or may not be more streamlined.

Ida Jean Kain

A column dealing with proportions gave three differences: waistline 7½ to 8½ inches less than the bust measurement and hips 1 to 3 inches more than the bust circumference.

Some readers with better than average figures ask whether these proportionate differences represent the average or the ideal. One young woman gave these measurements: Bust 36, waist 24, hips 36. Ah! Another had this combination of pulchritude and streamlines: Bust 36, waist 22, hips 35.

AN ULTRA streamlined waist can be 10, 12 and even 14 inches less than the bust measurement, and the hips can measure the same as the bust, or an inch less. Such elegant proportions, however, are the rare exception, and possible only at streamlined weight.

The average woman has a shorter and less slender waist. Unhappily, the waist seems to be the line of least resistance to embonpoint. A 7½ to 8½ inch difference between bust and the waist is within reach of most women whose weight is reasonably normal.

With streamlining exercises, a waistline 9 or even 10 inches less than the curve of the bust can be a dream come true. But 12 inches less? That is possible only for the tall, long-stemmed figure.

We inherit a certain build and this governs our proportions. With weight at normal and health up to par, the bust is according to nature's plan for our structure. The bust is the measurement used as a gauge in figuring proportions.

In the average figure, a waistline 8 inches less than the bust makes for pleasing proportions. The hip measurement varies with the body type. Only with ultra streamlines will the hips measure the same or less than the bust measurement. Hips that measure one to two inches larger are fashionably slim.

TO ACHIEVE the best proportions for your build, weight is the starting point. Too many pounds or too few can throw all measurements out of kilter.

A few well directed exercises can help you to slim down in the right places.

Presbytery Urges Strict Enforcement

Police throughout the Northern Panhandle were urged Monday by the Wheeling Presbytery to enforce strictly laws governing vice, gambling and sale of alcohol.

The Presbytery asked strict enforcement after going on record to commend the Wheeling police force for its law enforcement campaign when it met at the Second United Presbyterian Church in Wheeling.

The Presbytery also elected the Rev. Richard Jones of the Moundsville First Church as moderator, succeeding C. C. Phipps of Warwood.

Plans were made to install the Rev. Robert Stuart as assistant pastor of the Van Memorial church of Wheeling on Sunday morning and the Rev. George Day as pastor of the United Presbyterian Church, also of Wheeling, on Sunday night.

Attending from northern Hancock County were the Rev. C. Donald Vogel, pastor of the Chester First church; the Rev. William Flurkey, Pughtown Fairview; the Rev. William Claghorn, Chester Westminster, the Rev. Charles Haddock of the Newell First church, and Clifford Comm, an elder of the Westminster church.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Gals: First let me tell you how much I love you.

I think you are the sweetest things in the world! I love your sweet letters, listening to your problems, reading your hints . . .and the simple hints are the ones we love the most.

We try them, put them together and come up with pretty good solutions sometimes.

We have put some hints together today, tried the finished product and found it great. It's about cleaning ovens! Here 'tis:

We were bombarded with compliments from women who write that spraying their ovens with ammonia was the greatest. Next came the lope letters to the woman who wrote about putting a bath towel in her oven and saturating it with ammonia.

Then a reader wrote to PLUG up the vents in the oven with paper towels to keep the vapors of the ammonia in.

THOSE LETTERS were so wonderful that we have put all of the suggestions together and believe we have come up with the best yet. (Who knows what tomorrow will bring?)

To date:

HEAT your oven! Turn on the heat until it reaches 200 degrees. Turn it OFF.

Let it cool until it is warm enough so that you can touch it with your hands and not get burned! There must be a reason for this but all we can figure out is that heat (when the porcelain inside is warm) produces faster and better cleaning by far.

Now pull out the bottom rack in the oven. Get a bath towel. (I used an old one but it makes no difference) and wet it with warm water. Wring it out well. (Don't ask me what this does but we cleaned five ovens and found it works far better than a dry towel. Think it prevents the ammonia from soaking into the towel so quickly.)

Lay the damp towel on the bottom wire rack in your oven. Wet as many wash rags as you will need to plug up all vent holes in your oven. If you smell ammonia fumes getting strong. . . perhaps you missed an oven vent somewhere! (We did on one oven. It had three vents.)

Put wet wash rags over each vent hole. Dampness in the rags keeps the fumes in the oven and kitchen. But be sure to open the kitchen windows for your ventilation.

Now. . . pour ammonia over this wet towel in your oven. We used anywhere from one to two cups. The amount depends on how dirty the oven is, or how deep the carbon (the black and brown stuff on your oven walls and racks) appears.

CLOSE THE OVEN door and forget it for a few hours. Because the oven is still warm, we found that the vapors from the ammonia worked faster!

Soon all odors will leave. When odor evaporates, then start operation number two! But. . . let me tell you the easiest way I have found.

Before you do anything. . . remove that towel and one oven rack. Put the rack in your kitchen sink and lay the towel on top of it. Turn your water faucet over the towel until it soaks it well. Then slightly wring out the towel.

We found it better not to use a soap-filled pad. We rinsed the soap out of the soap-filled pads under hot water to remove most of the soap because we ran out of plain steel wool. Remember that the oven sides are still warm!

If you have any great build-up of carbon, take the pad and gently rub. It comes off like magic!

Scrub the wire racks which are now in your kitchen sink. Use the same piece of steel wool if the carbon is embedded.

And ladies, that glass door on some ovens came clean as a whistle! No effort at all. We just used a sponge dipped in a little water to which some vinegar had been added. Complete magic! Then we cleaned the inside of the oven with this same vinegar water. Sure pretty.

FOR THOSE who have very heavily coated racks (carbon again) we did find a better way to clean them. Fill your wash tub some time when its not in use if you don't have a sink big enough to cover your complete rack with VERY hot water.

Add about a cup or so of detergent. We used the kind we wash clothes in. Plunge the racks under the water and leave overnight. In the morning you will find the "goop" has worked itself off! Most of it is floating on top of the water. The rest can be wiped off with a vegetable brush. Terrific.

Get out of that chair! Clean that oven today. Oh, it's beautiful and remember to keep it clean next time. Use foil when you bake things. Haste makes waste. Prevention (whether in health and a pound of cure or two hours and umpteen fingernails) is calories and time saved.

Happy oven cleaning
Love,
HELOISE.

Height And Experience Are Lacking At Beaver Local

2 Vets Back; Beavers Open On Saturday

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

"Our big problems are height and experience, but I have been pleased with the progress of this team," Coach Tom McCall commented as he drilled his Beaver Local High cagers for their opening test Saturday night at Wellsville.

McCall, beginning his second year, only has two boys with any steady varsity experience. They are George Gaydos and Gary Berhar, the lone returning lettermen.

GAYDOS, who stands 5-foot-11 and is an outstanding halfback in football, was the leading scorer for the Beavers last season, averaging about 17 points per game. He also was the second best foul shot on the squad.

"Gaydos will be our big offensive threat," McCall said. "Berhar is a fine rebounder and should be tough on the boards," the coach observed. Berhar stands 6-foot-2 and is a husky 190 pounds. He was the second leading rebounder last season and was the team's leading foul shot. Both Gaydos and Berhar are seniors.

"Horger is the only freshman that ever played reserve ball. He shows a lot of promise and is a good all around athlete," McCall said.

—:—

THE JUNIOR is Ron Deering who stands 6-foot-5 and McCall is depending heavily on him to be strong on the backboards to aid Berhar. McCall commented that "Deering has improved a lot over last year."

The fifth starter is Gary Shaw, a 5-foot-9 senior who will be at a guard spot. He is up from reserve team.

First line substitutes for the Beavers will probably be Dave Morse, a 5-foot-9 senior guard who has won reserve letters the past two seasons.

ANOTHER cager who will probably see considerable action is Bill Bigelow, a transfer student from East Liverpool High School who stands an even 6-foot. Bigelow is the brother of Ray Bigelow who played high school basketball for the Potters.

Three juniors round out the varsity roster and they are Dave Lee 5-foot-10, Ray Artrip, 5-foot-11, and Jim McLaughlin, 5-foot-6.

After the opener at Wellsville, Beaver Local plays at home next weekend, meeting North Lima Dec. 14 and East Palestine the following night.

Sophomore Standout Leads Princeton Past Villanova

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

An 18-year-old sophomore sought by over 60 colleges who is shaking the staid Ivy League, and a 67-year-old coach who has been overworking a large red towel for some 40 years. That 's the unlikely combination sharing today's college basketball spotlight.

The sophomore sensation is young Bill Bradley, a 6-foot-5 product of Crystal City, Mo., who turned his back on his own backyard and wound up at Princeton. He scored 28 points in his first game and came back with 27 Tuesday night in the Tigers' 68-53 victory over Villanova.

The old man is Western Kentucky Coach Ed Diddle, who has been at the Ohio Valley Conference school for 41 years. He displayed all his towel-flapping tricks as the Hilltoppers wrote his 750th triumph into the record books by blasting Texas Wesleyan 101-66.

Bucking for a place in the spotlight were two of the nation's top ten pre-season choices—second-ranked Duke, which rolled over South Carolina 95-63 in an Atlantic Coast Conference clash, and sixth-rated Mississippi State, 90-55 conqueror of Arkansas A&M in its season debut.

In two Southern Conference games on a schedule heavy with intersectional and inter-conference contests, Virginia Tech downed Richmond 76-68 for its 37th consecutive home court victory and defending league champion West Virginia opened conference play with a 100-74 triumph over VMI.

Elsewhere, Notre Dame beat Michigan State 92-85 after a basket by soph Jay Miller broke a tie, Laverne Tart led Bradley on a 90-57 waltz past North Dakota, Oklahoma set a school scoring record in a 96-83 decision over SMU, Vanderbilt outclassed Rice 80-68 and Oregon edged Washington 59-57 on a pair of foul shots by Eliott Gleason with 30 seconds left.

Princeton got off to a fast start against Villanova, Bradley connecting for 17 points in the first half, as the Ivy Leaguers built a 33-25 halftime edge and were never headed. Bradley wound up with 10 for 15 from the floor, made all seven foul shots and was credited with eight assists.

No. 750 was easy for Diddle. Junior Darel Carrier hit on all seven of his shots from the floor in the first half and paced the Hilltoppers to a 59-35 halftime bulge over the Texans. Carrier, who scored 17 points in the first half, finished with 24.

Duke's Blue Devils shot at a 67 per cent clip against the Gamecocks and had little difficulty as Art Heyman scored 28 points and Denny Ferguson and Fred Schmidt added 14 each. South Carolina's one-eyed backcourt ace Scotty Ward, had 17 points.

Top Lineman Captured By Alabama Star

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rugged Lee Roy Jordan, Alabama's rock-ribbed center and linebacker who proved too much for Auburn last Saturday and for most opponents all season, was named Lineman Of The Week by The Associated Press today for the second time this season.

Jordan, a 6-foot-2, 207-pounder who was a first round choice of the National Football League's Dallas Cowboys and a second-round choice of Boston in the American League in the pro draft, was directly responsible for two touchdowns in the Crimson Tide's 38-0 victory over Auburn.

The native of Excel, Ala., sprung Butch Wilson loose on a 92-yard run with the opening kickoff with a devastating block. He set up Alabama's third touchdown, breaking through to help block Jon Kilgore's punt that was recovered in the end zone for a touchdown.

Jordan also was picked as the nation's outstanding lineman for his role in Alabama's 20-0 victory over Mississippi State on Nov. 3.

The three-year letterman, an All-America candidate at center, also turned in an outstanding job on offense against Auburn.

Fight Results

Late Starting Ohio U. Drops 58-54 Contest

By The Associated Press

It took Ohio University's Bobcats a little too long to get going in their basketball opener and they fell victim to perennially tough Louisville 58-54 in the feature of Tuesday night's Buckeye State collegiate card.

The Mid-American Conference club, playing before 5,500 friendly fans at Athens, managed only one field goal the first 15 minutes and four in 30 tries the first half. That put the Bobcats in a 30-18 hole, and Louisville fended off belated comeback bids, the last one cutting a 12-point deficit to the final narrow gap.

In the Ohio Conference, an experienced Hiram team served notice it may be a factor in the race while highly regarded Akron survived a scare.

Hiram's Terriers bopped Otterbein 87-64 behind Ken Rowen's 26 points and Bill Meyer's 24, climbing to a 2-0 league—and season—record. Akron, now boasting a similar won-lost status, had to resort to a stall to thwart a Capital rally and win 62-59 at Columbus. Cap had cut a 10-point Zip lead, built largely by Wyatt Webb's 20 points, to just two with 2½ minutes left.

In another OC tiff, Denison whipped Wooster 69-58 by overcoming the Scots' pressing tactics. Baldwin-Wallace stepped outside the circuit and doubled the score on Lawrence Tech of Detroit, 96-48.

In independent action, Case nosed out Cleveland rival Fenn 65-64 when Dave Ollar sank a jump shot in the final second, Central State beat Anderson, Ind., as Ted Day scored 24 and Jerry Cummings 21 for the Marauders, and defense went out the window as West Virginia State crushed Wilberforce 108-72.

East Junior Wins Opener

East Junior High opened its season with a 36-9 victory over the Beaver Local freshmen Tuesday at Beaver Local.

J. Green topped the Beavers with four.

Robinson's 19 Sets Pace In Newell's 2nd Victory

Another balanced scoring attack led by Terry Robinson, smallest member of the starting five, paid off for Newell's second straight victory — a 60-43 decision of South Side Tuesday night on the Wells High court.

A spurt in the third quarter broke open what had been a close contest. Newell held a 21-16 lead over Coach Dave Nichol's club at the end of the first quarter but the visitors rallied to come within four points, 34-30 at halftime.

The third period found Newell outscoring South Side 14-9 giving the Vikings a 48-39 margin to take into the fourth period.

Robinson fired in 19 points to have his best night on the hardwood for Newell. He tallied seven field goals and five of nine foul attempts.

Three other Newell starters hit the double figures again with Sam Simmons counting 13, Fred Farrell 12 and Tom Franczek 10.

Jerome Scatowski paced South Side with 18 points. The game marked the opener for the Rams while Newell had already decisioned Augusta last Saturday. The Vikings travel to New Cumberland Friday.

The Newell reserves also chalked up their second victory with a 39-26 win over the South Side jayvees. Denny Smith's 12 points paved the way while Powell had nine for the losers.

Height And Experience Are Lacking At Beaver Local

2 Vets Back; Beavers Open On Saturday

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

"Our big problems are height and experience, but I have been pleased with the progress of this team," Coach Tom McCall commented as he drilled his Beaver Local High cagers for their opening test Saturday night at Wellsville.

McCall, beginning his second year, only has two boys with any steady varsity experience. They are George Gaydos and Gary Berhar, the lone returning lettermen.

GAYDOS, who stands 5-foot-11 and is an outstanding halfback in football, was the leading scorer for the Beavers last season, averaging about 17 points per game. He also was the second best foul shot on the squad.

"Gaydos will be our big offensive threat," McCall said. "Berhar is a fine rebounder and should be tough on the boards," the coach observed. Berhar stands 6-foot-2 and is a husky 190 pounds. He was the second leading rebounder last season and was the team's leading foul shot. Both Gaydos and Berhar are seniors.

"Horger is the only freshman that ever played reserve ball. He shows a lot of promise and is a good all around athlete," McCall said.

—:—

THE JUNIOR is Ron Deering who stands 6-foot-5 and McCall is depending heavily on him to be strong on the backboards to aid Berhar. McCall commented that "Deering has improved a lot over last year."

The fifth starter is Gary Shaw, a 5-foot-9 senior who will be at a guard spot. He is up from reserve team.

First line substitutes for the Beavers will probably be Dave Morse, a 5-foot-9 senior guard who has won reserve letters the past two seasons.

ANOTHER cager who will probably see considerable action is Bill Bigelow, a transfer student from East Liverpool High School who stands an even 6-foot. Bigelow is the brother of Ray Bigelow who played high school basketball for the Potters.

Three juniors round out the varsity roster and they are Dave Lee 5-foot-10, Ray Artrip, 5-foot-11, and Jim McLaughlin, 5-foot-6.

After the opener at Wellsville, Beaver Local plays at home next weekend, meeting North Lima Dec. 14 and East Palestine the following night.

Sophomore Standout Leads Princeton Past Villanova

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

An 18-year-old sophomore sought by over 60 colleges who is shaking the staid Ivy League, and a 67-year-old coach who has been overworking a large red towel for some 40 years. That 's the unlikely combination sharing today's college basketball spotlight.

The sophomore sensation is young Bill Bradley, a 6-foot-5 product of Crystal City, Mo., who turned his back on his own backyard and wound up at Princeton. He scored 28 points in his first game and came back with 27 Tuesday night in the Tigers' 68-53 victory over Villanova.

The old man is Western Kentucky Coach Ed Diddle, who has been at the Ohio Valley Conference school for 41 years. He displayed all his towel-flapping tricks as the Hilltoppers wrote his 750th triumph into the record books by blasting Texas Wesleyan 101-66.

Bucking for a place in the spotlight were two of the nation's top ten pre-season choices—second-ranked Duke, which rolled over South Carolina 95-63 in an Atlantic Coast Conference clash, and sixth-rated Mississippi State, 90-55 conqueror of Arkansas A&M in its season debut.

In two Southern Conference games on a schedule heavy with intersectional and inter-conference contests, Virginia Tech downed Richmond 76-68 for its 37th consecutive home court victory and defending league champion West Virginia opened conference play with a 100-74 triumph over VMI.

Elsewhere, Notre Dame beat Michigan State 92-85 after a basket by soph Jay Miller broke a tie, Laverne Tart led Bradley on a 90-57 waltz past North Dakota, Oklahoma set a school scoring record in a 96-83 decision over SMU, Vanderbilt outclassed Rice 80-68 and Oregon edged Washington 59-57 on a pair of foul shots by Eliott Gleason with 30 seconds left.

Princeton got off to a fast start against Villanova, Bradley connecting for 17 points in the first half, as the Ivy Leaguers built a 33-25 halftime edge and were never headed. Bradley wound up with 10 for 15 from the floor, made all seven foul shots and was credited with eight assists.

No. 750 was easy for Diddle. Junior Darel Carrier hit on all seven of his shots from the floor in the first half and paced the Hilltoppers to a 59-35 halftime bulge over the Texans. Carrier, who scored 17 points in the first half, finished with 24.

Duke's Blue Devils shot at a 67 per cent clip against the Gamecocks and had little difficulty as Art Heyman scored 28 points and Denny Ferguson and Fred Schmidt added 14 each. South Carolina's one-eyed backcourt ace Scotty Ward, had 17 points.

Top Lineman Captured By Alabama Star

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rugged Lee Roy Jordan, Alabama's rock-ribbed center and linebacker who proved too much for Auburn last Saturday and for most opponents all season, was named Lineman Of The Week by The Associated Press today for the second time this season.

Jordan, a 6-foot-2, 207-pounder who was a first round choice of the National Football League's Dallas Cowboys and a second-round choice of Boston in the American League in the pro draft, was directly responsible for two touchdowns in the Crimson Tide's 38-0 victory over Auburn.

The native of Excel, Ala., sprung Butch Wilson loose on a 92-yard run with the opening kickoff with a devastating block. He set up Alabama's third touchdown, breaking through to help block Jon Kilgore's punt that was recovered in the end zone for a touchdown.

Jordan also was picked as the nation's outstanding lineman for his role in Alabama's 20-0 victory over Mississippi State on Nov. 3.

The three-year letterman, an All-America candidate at center, also turned in an outstanding job on offense against Auburn.

Late Starting Ohio U. Drops 58-54 Contest

By The Associated Press

It took Ohio University's Bobcats a little too long to get going in their basketball opener and they fell victim to perennially tough Louisville 58-54 in the feature of Tuesday night's Buckeye State collegiate card.

The Mid-American Conference club, playing before 5,500 friendly fans at Athens, managed only one field goal the first 15 minutes and four in 30 tries the first half. That put the Bobcats in a 30-18 hole, and Louisville fended off belated comeback bids, the last one cutting a 12-point deficit to the final narrow gap.

In the Ohio Conference, an experienced Hiram team served notice it may be a factor in the race while highly regarded Akron survived a scare.

Hiram's Terriers bopped Otterbein 87-64 behind Ken Rowen's 26 points and Bill Meyer's 24, climbing to a 2-0 league—and season—record. Akron, now boasting a similar won-lost status, had to resort to a stall to thwart a Capital rally and win 62-59 at Columbus. Cap had cut a 10-point Zip lead, built largely by Wyatt Webb's 20 points, to just two with 2½ minutes left.

In another OC tiff, Denison whipped Wooster 69-58 by overcoming the Scots' pressing tactics. Baldwin-Wallace stepped outside the circuit and doubled the score on Lawrence Tech of Detroit, 96-48.

In independent action, Case nosed out Cleveland rival Fenn 65-64 when Dave Ollar sank a jump shot in the final second, Central State beat Anderson, Ind., as Ted Day scored 24 and Jerry Cummings 21 for the Marauders, and defense went out the window as West Virginia State crushed Wilberforce 108-72.

East Junior Wins Opener

East Junior High opened its season with a 36-9 victory over the Beaver Local freshmen Tuesday at Beaver Local.

J. Green topped the Beavers with four.

JOHN BOLEY of the Hollow Rock Rd. brought home this 275-pound black bear Monday night after a hunting trip in McKean County, Pa. Boley bagged the animal with two shots from a .300 caliber rifle at a range of 100 yards in rugged mountain country. He was in a hunting party that also included Clarence Allmond of Main St. and Clifford Athey of Center St., both Wellsville. Boley said he expects to have the bear's head and paws mounted on a plaque for his son. The hide will be made into a robe.

Miami Faces Nebraska In Gotham Bowl

NEW YORK (AP)—Rugged Nebraska will oppose Miami of Florida in the second Gotham Bowl football game Dec. 15, rescuing the post-season contest with time running short.

The match was completed Tuesday night when the Board of Regents and the Big Eight Conference approved acceptance of the bid voted by the Nebraska players.

Bowl officials were pleased by the acquisition of both the Miami Hurricanes, 7-3, and the Cornhuskers, 8-2, who are among the nation's top ten teams in passing and rushing, respectively.

Less than 15,000 fans watched Baylor defeat previously unbeaten Utah State in the first Gotham Bowl game last year. The event had been scheduled to get off the ground in 1960 but failed to make it.

Liston Drops Group As Future Promoter

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston moved into his three-story mansion surrounded by a wrought iron fence and announced Championship Sports Inc., will not promote any of his future matches.

Liston and his wife, Geraldine, were busy moving into the 21-room "castle" recently vacated by jazz pianist Ahmad Jamal while the champ was holding a press conference Tuesday.

Liston, who won the title by kayoing Patterson in 2 minutes and 6 seconds of the first round in Comiskey Park last Sept. 25, said "If I meet Patterson again it will have to be under a different promotion and Baltimore stands a good chance of getting it."

2 Repeat On '62 Grid Little All-American

NEW YORK (AP) — Passing maestro George Bork, mammoth tackle Junious Buchanan, end Drew Roberts and back Joe Iacone head the 11 small college standouts named today to The Associated Press' 1962 Little All-American football team.

Bork, the Northern Illinois quarterback who was the No. 1 passer among the collegians parading their talents in smaller stadiums around the country, is the only junior on the first team. All others are seniors, and many may be playing in professional ranks next fall.

Buchanan, a 6-foot-6, 272-pound lineman who does double duty as a sprinter for Grambling, was the No. 1 selection in the American Football League draft held last weekend. He immediately signed with the Dallas Texans.

Roberts of Humboldt State in California and Iacone of West Chester, Pa., are the only repeaters from the 1961 Little All-America team.

Joining Bork and Iacone in the first team backfield are Richard Kemp of Lenoir Rhyne, a barreling rusher on a team that has won 17 in a row, and Robert (China Doll) Paremore, fleet track star for Florida A&M who also has established his reputation as a top-flight gridiron hero.

Rounding out the first team line are end Willie Richardson of Jackson, Miss., State; tackle Dick Peter of Whittier; guards Ralph Soffredine of Central Michigan and Don Hunt of Wittenberg, and center Douglas Harvey of Texas A&I, who was tapped for the honor over an unusually large group of outstanding centers.

Other Ohioans mentioned for honors included:

Second Team: Richard Koblin, John Carroll tackle.

Ohio Conference Honors Top Stars

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Conference Sports Publicity Association has announced that Tony Hall of Denison and Tom Goosby of Baldwin-Wallace are the 1962 winners of the annual Mike Gregory Memorial Awards.

Hall, a Kettering product who set a league record in total offense with 1,321 yards, was named the best back and Goosby, only player to make both offensive and defensive all-conference teams, was tabbed the best lineman.

The awards are presented on the basis of a vote by league coaches. This year's winners have had only one year in Ohio Conference competition.

Bluefield's Gainer Named Coach Of Year

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Bluefield High School football coach Merrill Gainer today was named Coach of the Year for the second time since 1959.

Gainer's teams have lost only one game in the past four years, and twice in that period won the state Class AAA championship.

Jolly Roger Staubach Picked Back Of Week

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Roger Staubach, Navy's Jolly Roger who says his first name had nothing to do with those Pirate flags the Midshipmen wore on their helmets in routing Army last Saturday, is already thinking about next football season.

He's planning to skip basketball, one of his favorite sports, in order to practice weightlifting and try to add some muscle to his arms and chest and some weight to his 6-foot-2, 193-pound frame. Perish the thought, Army, but he thinks it will make him more effective. "I'll be stronger," he says.

The 20-year-old sophomore quarterback from Cincinnati was chosen by The Associated Press Tuesday as its Back of the Week for his four touchdown performance in Navy's 34-14 shellacking of Army.

He passed for two touchdowns and ran for two others, gained a total of 222 yards passing and running, and wound up the season with a total offense of 1,231 yards in seven games—only 177 yards shy of the academy record.

Various organizations are working well, planning a National Park along Beaver Creek extending from a point in Pennsylvania to a section of Ohio, combatting the evils of pollution in the Ohio River and local streams, pushing their demands to create a new lake on the Highlandtown area, improving camping conditions in our Parks as well as other activities which are most desirable.

When enough force is extended for a good cause something's got to give. Sometimes, the cart is placed before the horse by not getting directly at the source of evil with all eyes open in one direction and closed in another.

I have direct references to the strip mining operations going on in Columbiana County, with the booms going up, the booms being lowered, the clanging lids of the coal digger echoing through our beautiful hills—what we have left.

MORE AND more farm lands being removed from the tax duplicate are now listed at about $4 per acre. Something taken from something leaves a worthless mine pit.

There ought to be a strong organization of real estate taxpayers who are willing to band together, seek legal aid and study the mining conditions as they exist.

Are the strippers reclaiming the land according to law? If not, legal action should be taken. If the existing laws are not sufficient, let's have new legislation that means something.

How can it be explained that the John Barnett turkey farm in Knox Township was turned upside down by the strippers and the land leveled off and placed back into immediate production with no trace of it ever having been stripped? If this was a profitable enterprise by the miners, why can't the rest of the mining operations be carried on in the same manner?

Keep in mind, a once polluted stream that killed off all fish life and chased the beavers, mink and muskrats over the hill can be reclaimed just as soon as the pollution has been cleared up. There are plenty of fish available for re-stocking if this is necessary. The mink, muskrats and beavers will find their way back and the damage has been remedied.

DRIVE ALONG any highway or byway in this county and look straight head, look to your right or to the left and you'll see spoil banks galore. The only people who profit by these operations are the landowner and the strippers. People owning good land will continue to see taxes rise as more and more land is being destroyed.

Seems to me it would be a good idea to tax all stripped land at $25 per acre. The owners of these mine pits won't pay the taxes of course. In that event the state or some individuals might but the land for back taxes and there would have to be some reclaiming done.

If the state or federal government ever takes over such lands, the taxpayers will still foot the bill of leveling off. The destructive forces are the ones who should foot the bill.

Steelers' Hayes Fair After Heart Attack

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Rudy Hayes, 26, linebacker for the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League, remained in fair condition today after suffering a heart attack while hunting deer.

However, a spokesman said the condition of the Pickens, S.C., player was improving.

Hayes, a former Clemson star, had been inactive most of the season because of a knee injury. He returned to the active list last weekend and played briefly against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Ohio Conference Honors Top Stars

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Conference Sports Publicity Association has announced that Tony Hall of Denison and Tom Goosby of Baldwin-Wallace are the 1962 winners of the annual Mike Gregory Memorial Awards.

Hall, a Kettering product who set a league record in total offense with 1,321 yards, was named the best back and Goosby, only player to make both offensive and defensive all-conference teams, was tabbed the best lineman.

The awards are presented on the basis of a vote by league coaches. This year's winners have had only one year in Ohio Conference competition.

Bluefield's Gainer Named Coach Of Year

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Bluefield High School football coach Merrill Gainer today was named Coach of the Year for the second time since 1959.

Gainer's teams have lost only one game in the past four years, and twice in that period won the state Class AAA championship.

Gainer is the first coach to win the "coach of the year" title twice. The honor is awarded annually by the West Virginia Sports Writers Association.

JOHN BOLEY of the Hollow Rock Rd. brought home this 275-pound black bear Monday night after a hunting trip in McKean County, Pa. Boley bagged the animal with two shots from a .300 caliber rifle at a range of 100 yards in rugged mountain country. He was in a hunting party that also included Clarence Allmond of Main St. and Clifford Athey of Center St., both Wellsville. Boley said he expects to have the bear's head and paws mounted on a plaque for his son. The hide will be made into a robe.

2 Repeat On '62 Grid Little All-American

NEW YORK (AP) — Passing maestro George Bork, mammoth tackle Junious Buchanan, end Drew Roberts and back Joe Iacone head the 11 small college standouts named today to The Associated Press' 1962 Little All-American football team.

Bork, the Northern Illinois quarterback who was the No. 1 passer among the collegians parading their talents in smaller stadiums around the country, is the only junior on the first team. All others are seniors, and many may be playing in professional ranks next fall.

Buchanan, a 6-foot-6, 272-pound lineman who does double duty as a sprinter for Grambling, was the No. 1 selection in the American Football League draft held last weekend. He immediately signed with the Dallas Texans.

Roberts of Humboldt State in California and Iacone of West Chester, Pa., are the only repeaters from the 1961 Little All-America team.

Joining Bork and Iacone in the first team backfield are Richard Kemp of Lenoir Rhyne, a barreling rusher on a team that has won 17 in a row, and Robert (China Doll) Paremore, fleet track star for Florida A&M who also has established his reputation as a top-flight gridiron hero.

Rounding out the first team line are end Willie Richardson of Jackson, Miss., State; tackle Dick Peter of Whittier; guards Ralph Soffredine of Central Michigan and Don Hunt of Wittenberg, and center Douglas Harvey of Texas A&I, who was tapped for the honor over an unusually large group of outstanding centers.

Other Ohioans mentioned for honors included:

Second Team: Richard Koblin, John Carroll tackle.

Jolly Roger Staubach Picked Back Of Week

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Roger Staubach, Navy's Jolly Roger who says his first name had nothing to do with those Pirate flags the Midshipmen wore on their helmets in routing Army last Saturday, is already thinking about next football season.

He's planning to skip basketball, one of his favorite sports, in order to practice weightlifting and try to add some muscle to his arms and chest and some weight to his 6-foot-2, 193-pound frame. Perish the thought, Army, but he thinks it will make him more effective. "I'll be stronger," he says.

The 20-year-old sophomore quarterback from Cincinnati was chosen by The Associated Press Tuesday as its Back of the Week for his four touchdown performance in Navy's 34-14 shellacking of Army.

He passed for two touchdowns and ran for two others, gained a total of 222 yards passing and running, and wound up the season with a total offense of 1,231 yards in seven games—only 177 yards shy of the academy record.

Miami Faces Nebraska In Gotham Bowl

NEW YORK (AP)—Rugged Nebraska will oppose Miami of Florida in the second Gotham Bowl football game Dec. 15, rescuing the post-season contest with time running short.

The match was completed Tuesday night when the Board of Regents and the Big Eight Conference approved acceptance of the bid voted by the Nebraska players.

Bowl officials were pleased by the acquisition of both the Miami Hurricanes, 7-3, and the Cornhuskers, 8-2, who are among the nation's top ten teams in passing and rushing, respectively.

Less than 15,000 fans watched Baylor defeat previously unbeaten Utah State in the first Gotham Bowl game last year. The event had been scheduled to get off the ground in 1960 but failed to make it.

Liston Drops Group As Future Promoter

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston moved into his three-story mansion surrounded by a wrought iron fence and announced Championship Sports Inc., will not promote any of his future matches.

Liston and his wife, Geraldine, were busy moving into the 21-room "castle" recently vacated by jazz pianist Ahmad Jamal while the champ was holding a press conference Tuesday.

Liston, who won the title by kayoing Patterson in 2 minutes and 6 seconds of the first round in Comiskey Park last Sept. 25, said "If I meet Patterson again it will have to be under a different promotion and Baltimore stands a good chance of getting it."

By R. L. LIDE

Various organizations are working well, planning a National Park along Beaver Creek extending from a point in Pennsylvania to a section of Ohio, combatting the evils of pollution in the Ohio River and local streams, pushing their demands to create a new lake on the Highlandtown area, improving camping conditions in our Parks as well as other activities which are most desirable.

When enough force is extended for a good cause something's got to give. Sometimes, the cart is placed before the horse by not getting directly at the source of evil with all eyes open in one direction and closed in another.

I have direct references to the strip mining operations going on in Columbiana County, with the booms going up, the booms being lowered, the clanging lids of the coal digger echoing through our beautiful hills—what we have left.

MORE AND more farm lands being removed from the tax duplicate are now listed at about $4 per acre. Something taken from something leaves a worthless mine pit.

There ought to be a strong organization of real estate taxpayers who are willing to band together, seek legal aid and study the mining conditions as they exist.

Are the strippers reclaiming the land according to law? If not, legal action should be taken. If the existing laws are not sufficient, let's have new legislation that means something.

How can it be explained that the John Barnett turkey farm in Knox Township was turned upside down by the strippers and the land leveled off and placed back into immediate production with no trace of it ever having been stripped? If this was a profitable enterprise by the miners, why can't the rest of the mining operations be carried on in the same manner?

Keep in mind, a once polluted stream that killed off all fish life and chased the beavers, mink and muskrats over the hill can be reclaimed just as soon as the pollution has been cleared up. There are plenty of fish available for re-stocking if this is necessary. The mink, muskrats and beavers will find their way back and the damage has been remedied.

DRIVE ALONG any highway or byway in this county and look straight head, look to your right or to the left and you'll see spoil banks galore. The only people who profit by these operations are the landowner and the strippers. People owning good land will continue to see taxes rise as more and more land is being destroyed.

Seems to me it would be a good idea to tax all stripped land at $25 per acre. The owners of these mine pits won't pay the taxes of course. In that event the state or some individuals might but the land for back taxes and there would have to be some reclaiming done.

If the state or federal government ever takes over such lands, the taxpayers will still foot the bill of leveling off. The destructive forces are the ones who should foot the bill.

Steelers' Hayes Fair After Heart Attack

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Rudy Hayes, 26, linebacker for the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League, remained in fair condition today after suffering a heart attack while hunting deer.

However, a spokesman said the condition of the Pickens, S.C., player was improving.

Post Offices Of District Will Begin Yule Hours

East Liverpool Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said beginning Dec. 12, windows will be open from 7:45 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, including Wednesday and Saturday.

In Chester, service windows will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p.m. starting Dec. 17, according to Postmaster Robert Edwards.

At Wellsville, Postmaster Elmer Evans said the parcel post and stamp windows will be open daily from 7:30 a. m. to 6 p. m. beginning Monday and continuing through Saturday, Dec. 22. He said this will include Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Postmasters suggest parcels be mailed before 10 a. m. and between 1:30 and 3:30 p. m. to avoid the noon and late afternoon rush.

All gift parcels should be mailed by Monday, they said, and cards for out-of-town delivery should be in the mail by Dec. 15. Those for local addresses should be mailed no later than a week before Chrstmas.

Patrons were reminded that gift parcels should be packed in strong corrugated cartons with plenty of padding to protect the gift. The packages should be sealed with heavy paper adhesive tape and tied with strong cord.

In addressing cards, patrons should type or print the name and address, including the zone number where applicable. Abbreviations of state and city names should be avoided.

It was also suggested using the 4-cent Christmas stamp on Christmas cards. By using first class mail, cards will be forwarded or returned if the envelope lists a return address.

Mail is expected to set another record this year, Brown added, urging residents to "mail early—and often."

Cipoletti spoke briefly and commended the club for its work during 1962.

A contribution of $10 was authorized for the Hancock County Retarded Children's Council, and membership in the council was renewed.

Eugene Seeley, secretary-treasurer, said the club ranked fourth in the division for October achievement reports. He said $250 was netted from pancake suppers held last month.

J. Paul Finley, president, named an auditing committee consisting of Thomas Ridge, Clifford Comm and Paul Stephens.

Cipoletti announced William Harper has been named to the Key Club committee of Zone 1. Hunter met with new officers and the directors of the club after the dinner.

Patrol Investigates 2 Accidents In County

The Lisbon State Highway Patrol was investigating two early-morning crashes on county highways.

One was on Route 39 near the village dump east of Salineville. Mrs. Charles Temple of Salineville, a teacher at Wayne School and wife of the Salineville High School music director, was the driver.

Mrs. Temple's car rolled over an embankment.

She was taken to City Hospital with severe lacerations of the neck, face and head. She still was receiving emergency treatment at 11 a.m. She also was receiving plasma as she lost a lot of blood.

George Elliott of Bergholz, driver of a truck following the car, said it appeared a tire blew out as the car veered several times before the crash. Mrs. Temple was en route to the school.

The patrol was investigating another crash on Route 14 east of Washingtonville. No one was reported injured.

Wellsville Council Acts

Intervention Set For Rail Merger

Legislation authorizing Solicitor William Bush to file a petition to intervene in the Interstate Commerce Commission's hearings on the proposed railroad merger was given for first reading by Wellsville Council Tuesday night.

The ICC at Washington is conducting hearings on the plan to merge the Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central.

If accepted by the ICC, the petition would allow Wellsville to have witnesses testify in connection with the merger.

COUNCILMAN Donald Miller urged Council to reconsider the last offer made by the Ohio Valley Gas Co. on a rate increase. He said the firm may appeal to the Public Utilities Commission in Columbus. The utility's last offer was for a 8.6 per cent increase. The first offer was over 19 per cent.

Councilmen Robert Taggart, Mrs. Kay Drago and Frank DeLonzo were absent. Present were Councilmen Miller, Dwight MacLean, Allen Baldwin, William Stroble and Mrs. Mary Rahter, president.

An informal discussion also was held on a request from Angelo Georgetti, owner of the Georgetti River-Rail Terminal, that a section of ground he now leases from the city be sold outright to him. Stroble reiterated his previous opposition, declaring a minimum price should be set.

A LETTER was received from Auditor Edgar Davidson showing Georgetti owes the city a total of $750 in rental. Solicitor Bush was directed to send him a letter, asking the money be paid.

Stroble requested a section of Main St. near 17th St. and extending toward 16th St. be blocked so traffic could not pull over the curb. Mayor William Daugherty explained he has a plan to beautify the area and correct the situation. Stroble said he wants the area blocked now as it creates a traffic hazard.

Stroble moved that a "no crossing" area be created but his motion died for lack of a second. Baldwin said "even if we all voted for it and the safety director and mayor want to stall it wouldn't be done."

MAYOR Daugherty commented, "I don't want it insinuated we are stalling. We are vitally interested in the project. At least we are doing more than has been done in the past."

Council approved a recommendation by Stroble, street and light chairman, that a no parking zone be created for 160 feet on both sides of Clark Ave. along the H. K. Porter Co. plant. He said the firm asked this so that cars cannot block the entrances to parking lots and obstruct the vision of drivers pulling into the street.

Stroble also commented that water bonds will be retired in 1963 and that he intends to attempt to have the water rates reduced proportionately. Miller said if the water rates are cut the sewage fees will have to be increased.

APPARENTLY miffed because no action has been taken on construction of a city garage, as approved by Council, Stroble asked Bush what Council can do if its directives are not carried out. Bush informed him Council is a legislative body and can only appropriate money and direct a contract be made, but nothing more.

Asked for an alternative, Bush told Stroble Council should "sit down and co-operate" with the Board of Control.

Stroble said he "doesn't understand what good it does to pass legislation." He indicated he will seek legal advice elsewhere.

Mayor Daugherty then asked Stroble if he was insinuating that he and Director Fred Baldasare were not doing their jobs.

STROBLE then remarked that no action had been taken on construction of the garage or on a contract for repairs to the water standpipes.

The mayor said no figures had been advanced on the construction and all that was offered was a sketchy plan.

After a heated discussion, Stroble told the mayor he would like him to present figures on construction and on bonds.

Stroble commented the Board of Education had alleviated a blind intersection at the lower end of town by moving a section of the fence around Nicholson Stadium.

MacLean said he received a report of a woman being injured in a fall but found it occurred in the middle of the street. The city is not responsible, he said. MacLean also requested that the bus firm operating in Wellsville be asked for an additional stop at Shingler Alley.

Mrs. Rahter gave the opening prayer.

Richard Bangor To Head Society

Other officers chosen were Eddie Gill, vice president; Joseph Sullivan, secretary, and Earl Best, treasurer.

Ernie Purton was appointed as trustee.

The society received an invitation to attend the first Mass of Fr. Robert Gibas on Jan. 1 at 5 p. m. at St. Aloysius and a reception in the school auditorium.

The society will receive Communion in a group at the 7:30 a.m. Mass on Sunday.

Police List 4 Car Mishaps

Four minor auto mishaps were reported in East Liverpool Tuesday, police said. No one was injured.

A collision on Globe St. 20 feet west of Oakland Ave. at 5:38 p. m. involved a parked 1955 sedan owned by Louis Bolton, 243 W. 3rd St., and a 1957 sedan operated by Tony V. Frank, 34, of 533 Wedgewood Ave., officers said.

A mishap on W. 4th St. 100 feet east of Peach Alley at 8:32 p. m. involved a parked 1955 four-door sedan owned by Hubert R. Adkins, 40, of 1032 Edgewood Ave. and a 1959 car operated by C. W. Arnold, 409 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, police said. Officers said Arnold was to furnish additional details on the mishap today.

The container fell off a 1957 model refuse truck operated by Jack A. Davis, 57, of Post Office Box 470, police said. It hit a 1962 model auto operated by Eugene Mullen, 30, of 6 West Dr., Midland, officers said.

A parked 1958 two-door sedan owned by Rita M. Conner of Substation Rd. was hit by a drifting car about 9:30 a. m. Tuesday while parked on lower Market St., police said. The owner of the drifting car was not identified.

Continuance Set For Hanoverton Marshal's Case

HANOVERTON — On the request of the defendant and his counsel, Atty. Guy Mauro of Salem, the village administration has granted a continuance in the hearing for suspended Marshal Donald Sheen until Dec. 17.

The continuance was approved by Mayor Howard Hart and Village Solicitor Warren Bettis.

The temporary suspension of Marshal Sheen, which was to end last Friday, has been extended until the hearing date. Sheen, 48-year-old Ravenna Arsenal worker, was temporarily ousted from office Nov. 15 because of alleged misconduct in office. His pay has been continued throughout the suspension.

Council, while awaiting the marshal's hearing, will convene next Monday night at 7:30 to conduct routine business, according to Clerk Lee Bowman.

The group meets regularly the first Monday of the month, but yesterday's session was delayed a week because of the illness of one member and a business trip by another.

4 To Aid Lisbon Mail

LISBON — Postmaster Howard Hochmann said a total of four persons will be hired Dec. 15 to assist with the Christmas mail rush. Their extra work will be held to a minimum, he said, urging residents to mail early.

Dental Clinic Plans Pushed

The Midland Health and Advisory Council met Tuesday night at the Lincoln High School gymnasium and administration building to discuss reopening its dental clinic at 4th St. School.

Plans are to obtain a dentist who will also estimate necessary repairs to the clinic equipment. Then the council will arrange for financing the project.

The clinic, which serves public and parochial school pupils of Midland, has not been operating the past year due to needed repairs to the equipment. The clinic may be opened in the spring.

The clinic is sponsored and financed by various Midland organizations. It accepts no state aid. Mrs. Ruth Haggerty is secretary-treasurer of the council. John Wilson, president, gave an account of a Beaver County Mental Health Association dinner he and Miss Eugenia O'Hara attended in October. The council renewed its membership in the association.

Organizations represented at the meeting were the Parent-Teacher Associations of 1st, 4th and 7th St. Schools, the auxiliary of American Legion Post 481, the St. Anthony Auxiliary, Catholic Daughters of America, Lions Club, Lioness Club and the Midland Board of Education.

The council will meet in April.

All association members are to attend.

J. Harold McCullough of Salem R. D. 2, president, will preside.

Intervention Set For Rail Merger

Legislation authorizing Solicitor William Bush to file a petition to intervene in the Interstate Commerce Commission's hearings on the proposed railroad merger was given for first reading by Wellsville Council Tuesday night.

The ICC at Washington is conducting hearings on the plan to merge the Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central.

If accepted by the ICC, the petition would allow Wellsville to have witnesses testify in connection with the merger.

COUNCILMAN Donald Miller urged Council to reconsider the last offer made by the Ohio Valley Gas Co. on a rate increase. He said the firm may appeal to the Public Utilities Commission in Columbus. The utility's last offer was for a 8.5 per cent increase. The first offer was over 19 per cent.

Councilmen Robert Taggart, Mrs. Kay Drago and Frank DeLonzo were absent. Present were Councilmen Miller, Dwight MacLean, Allen Baldwin, William Stroble and Mrs. Mary Rahrer, president.

An informal discussion also was held on a request from Angelo Georgetti, owner of the Georgetti River-Rail Terminal, that a section of ground he now leases from the city be sold outright to him. Stroble reiterated his previous opposition, declaring a minimum price should be set.

A LETTER was received from Auditor Edgar Davidson showing Georgetti owes the city a total of $750 in rental. Solicitor Bush was directed to send him a letter, asking the money be paid.

Stroble requested a section of Main St. near 17th St. and extending toward 16th St. be blocked so traffic could not pull over the curb. Mayor William Daugherty explained he has a plan to beautify the area and correct the situation. Stroble said he wants the area blocked now as it creates a traffic hazard.

Stroble moved that a "no crossing" area be created but his motion died for lack of a second. Baldwin said "even if we all voted for it and the safety director and mayor want to stall it wouldn't be done."

MAYOR Daugherty commented, "I don't want it insinuated we are stalling. We are vitally interested in the project. At least we are doing more than has been done in the past."

Council approved a recommendation by Stroble, street and light chairman, that a no parking zone be created for 160 feet on both sides of Clark Ave. along the H. K. Porter Co. plant. He said the firm asked this so that cars cannot block the entrances to parking lots and obstruct the vision of drivers pulling into the street.

Stroble also commented that water bonds will be retired in 1963 and that he intends to attempt to have the water rates reduced proportionately. Miller said if the water rates are cut the sewage fees will have to be increased.

APPARENTLY miffed because no action has been taken on construction of a city garage, as approved by Council, Stroble asked Bush what Council can do if its directives are not carried out. Bush informed him Council is a legislative body and can only appropriate money and direct a contract be made, but nothing more.

Asked for an alternative, Bush told Stroble Council should "sit down and co-operate" with the Board of Control.

Stroble said he "doesn't understand what good it does to pass legislation." He indicated he will seek legal advice elsewhere.

Mayor Daugherty then asked Stroble if he was insinuating that he and Director Fred Baldasare were not doing their jobs.

STROBLE then remarked that no action had been taken on construction of the garage or on a contract for repairs to the water standpipes.

The mayor said no figures had been advanced on the construction and all that was offered was a sketchy plan.

After a heated discussion, Stroble told the mayor he would like him to present figures on construction and on bonds.

Stroble commented the Board of Education had alleviated a blind intersection at the lower end of town by moving a section of the fence around Nicholson Stadium.

MacLean said he received a report of a woman being injured in a fall but found it occurred in the middle of the street. The city is not responsible, he said. MacLean also requested that the bus firm operating in Wellsville be asked for an additional stop at Shingler Alley.

Mrs. Rahrer gave the opening prayer.

Richard Bangor To Head Society

Other officers chosen were Eddie Gill, vice president; Joseph Sullivan, secretary, and Earl Best, treasurer.

Ernie Purton was appointed as trustee.

The society received an invitation to attend the first Mass of Fr. Robert Gibas on Jan. 1 at 5 p. m. at St. Aloysius and a reception in the school auditorium.

The society will receive Communion in a group at the 7:30 a.m. Mass on Sunday.

Police List 4 Car Mishaps

Four minor auto mishaps were reported in East Liverpool Tuesday, police said. No one was injured.

A collision on Globe St. 20 feet west of Oakland Ave. at 5:38 p. m. involved a parked 1955 sedan owned by Louis Bolton, 243 W. 3rd St., and a 1957 sedan operated by Tony V. Frank, 34, of 533 Wedgewood Ave., officers said.

A mishap on W. 4th St. 100 feet east of Peach Alley at 8:32 p. m. involved a parked 1955 four-door sedan owned by Hubert R. Adkins, 40, of 1032 Edgewood Ave. and a 1959 car operated by C. W. Arnold, 409 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, police said. Officers said Arnold was to furnish additional details on the mishap today.

The container fell off a 1957 model refuse truck operated by Jack A. Davis, 57, of Post Office Box 470, police said. It hit a 1962 model auto operated by Eugene Mullen, 30, of 6 West Dr., Midland, officers said.

A parked 1958 two-door sedan owned by Rita M. Conner of Substation Rd. was hit by a drifting car about 9:30 a. m. Tuesday while parked on lower Market St., police said. The owner of the drifting car was not identified.

Continuance Set For Hanoverton Marshal's Case

HANOVERTON — On the request of the defendant and his counsel, Atty. Guy Mauro of Salem, the village administration has granted a continuance in the hearing for suspended Marshal Donald Sheen until Dec. 17.

The continuance was approved by Mayor Howard Hart and Village Solicitor Warren Bettis.

The temporary suspension of Marshal Sheen, which was to end last Friday, has been extended until the hearing date. Sheen, 48-year-old Ravenna Arsenal worker, was temporarily ousted from office Nov. 15 because of alleged misconduct in office. His pay has been continued throughout the suspension.

Council, while awaiting the marshal's hearing, will convene next Monday night at 7:30 to conduct routine business, according to Clerk Lee Bowman.

The group meets regularly the first Monday of the month, but yesterday's session was delayed a week because of the illness of one member and a business trip by another.

4 To Aid Lisbon Mail

LISBON — Postmaster Howard Hochmann said a total of four persons will be hired Dec. 15 to assist with the Christmas mail rush. Their extra work will be held to a minimum, he said, urging residents to mail early.

Dental Clinic Plans Pushed

The Midland Health and Advisory Council met Tuesday night at the Lincoln High School gymnasium and administration building to discuss reopening its dental clinic at 4th St. School.

Plans are to obtain a dentist who will also estimate necessary repairs to the clinic equipment. Then the council will arrange for financing the project.

The clinic, which serves public and parochial school pupils of Midland, has not been operating the past year due to needed repairs to the equipment. The clinic may be opened in the spring.

The clinic is sponsored and financed by various Midland organizations. It accepts no state aid. Mrs. Ruth Haggerty is secretary-treasurer of the council. John Wilson, president, gave an account of a Beaver County Mental Health Association dinner he and Miss Eugenia O'Hara attended in October. The council renewed its membership in the association.

Organizations represented at the meeting were the Parent-Teacher Associations of 1st, 4th and 7th St. Schools, the auxiliary of American Legion Post 481, the St. Anthony Auxiliary, Catholic Daughters of America, Lions Club, Lioness Club and the Midland Board of Education.

The council will meet in April.

Ruling Due On Land Use

An opinion is expected soon from the Beaver County Court concerning a viewer's hearing Tuesday in the county court at which the Midland Municipal Authority sought to condemn two lots of the estate of Angelina Sferra to be used as a borough parking lot.

Atty. Robert Masters, solicitor for the authority, was present at the hearing. The two lots are on Midland Ave. next to the Steelworkers Hall.

The authority's first parking lot, located in the 700 block of Midland Ave., is completed excepted for the erection of meters and other minor details. Meters from the Duncan Parking Meter Co. of Chicago, obtained through Kurtz Equipment Co. of Pittsburgh, are expected to be delivered any day now.

Last summer, Council authorized the authority to establish several metered and non-metered lots in the borough.

Dr. Zanvel Sigal is chairman of the authority, which manages the water department, sewage treatment plant and the parking lots.

No word has been received yet on the authority's request for a $140,000 grant under the federal Accelerated Public Works Program to be used for expansion of the water department.

Ruling Due On Land Use

An opinion is expected soon from the Beaver County Court concerning a viewer's hearing Tuesday in the county court at which the Midland Municipal Authority sought to condemn two lots of the estate of Angelina Sferra to be used as a borough parking lot.

Atty. Robert Masters, solicitor for the authority, was present at the hearing. The two lots are on Midland Ave. next to the Steelworkers Hall.

The authority's first parking lot, located in the 700 block of Midland Ave., is completed excepted for the erection of meters and other minor details. Meters from the Duncan Parking Meter Co. of Chicago, obtained through Kurtz Equipment Co. of Pittsburgh, are expected to be delivered any day now.

Last summer, Council authorized the authority to establish several metered and non-metered lots in the borough.

Dr. Zanvel Sigal is chairman of the authority, which manages the water department, sewage treatment plant and the parking lots.

No word has been received yet on the authority's request for a $140,000 grant under the federal Accelerated Public Works Program to be used for expansion of the water department.

Board Names Purchasing Agent-Clerk

Myers, 35, of Kensington, clerk of United Local School District for four years, was appointed full-time purchasing agent and clerk by the Board of Education Monday night.

Myers, who has been employed at the Loudon Motor Sales, will begin his duties Jan. 1, Chester Brautigam, executive head, announced.

In other action, the board accepted the tax rates determined by the County Budget Commission.

The inside millage rate is 4.4 and outside rate 10.2, a total of 14.6 mills. It is expected to provde approximately $180,000 for operating expenses, according to Myers. A rate of 4.5 mills on bonds raises a further amount of $55,000.

The assessment this year will be reduced 3.3 mills due to the increased valuation stemming from the current property reappraisal.

In other business, the board discussed the increased valuation due to the $18,000 conversion of the bus garage to provide four new classrooms.

The board expects to take advantage of a new musical instrument insurance plan which would save money for United Local and three other county schools.

Currently all four schools are paying separate insurance rates. By combining into one plan, a "substantial savings" could be made, Brautigam said, because of the declining rates offered with increased instrument valuation.

The state examiner's recommendation on the change of payroll dates for teachers was accepted. Beginning in January, teachers will be paid on the 10th and 25th of each month rather than on the 1st and 15th.

Non-teaching personnel will continue to be paid at the end of the month and extra, part-time workers will be paid on the 5th. The change has been made to spread the workload involved in disbursement of salaries and wages.

Steps were taken to remedy a water shortage resulting from a stoppage of a pump after a temporary power failure at the school a week ago. Horton's Pump & Well Drilling Service Co. of Columbiana was requested to correct the situation by cleaning out the well over the Christmas holidays.

Ohioville Car Crash Hurts 2

A Rogers area motorist and one from Meadowbrook Estates, Ohioville, were admitted to City Hospital after a two-car accident Monday afternoon at the entrance of Meadowbrook Estates on Route 168 in the borough.

Henry Charles Wilkes Jr., 38, of Rogers R. D. 1, received an injury of the jaw and complained of his left foot and left knee hurting. Ralph Huey, 24, of 107 Meadowbrook Dr., received injuries of the left shoulder and chest.

They were admitted to the hospital at 3:15 p. m. Ohioville police said Wilkes in a 1957 Ford was coming down the steep hill when Huey, driving a 1962 compact, pulled out of the entrance, headed up the hill, into the path of Wilkes' car.

The Wilkes auto was demolished while a door on the driver's side of the compact was caved in, with $200 damage.

County Forwards 8 Men In Draft Quota

Ralph J. Roush, 102 Grant St., Newell, formerly of Lisbon; Thomas C. Jolly, M.C. Route 22, East Liverpool; Leonard J. Hephner, 601 Broadway, Wellsville; Jerry L. Rhodes, Salineville R. D. 1; Larry A. Haupt, Hanoverton R. D. 1; Richard L. Beall and Robert S. Jeffries, Salem, and Richard M. Houp, New Waterford R. D. 1.

Three will go to Cleveland next Tuesday for pre-induction physicals.

Controversial Judge Will Contest Defeat

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—William Shank, controversial judge of Montgomery County Court for the Trotwood area, has gone to the County Appeals Court to contest his Nov. 6 election defeat. He claims some voting machines in his district were not working properly.

William McMillan and Robert Nolan won judgeships while the incumbent Shank lost out. The county bar association and the prosecutor's office have been highly critical of Shank in recent months for some of his rulings.

Labor Dispute Ties Up U.S. Atomic Ship

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The nuclear ship Savannah, whose reactors can carry it whole circuits of the globe without refueling, is tied up here today by a labor dispute.

The gleaming white freighter has been idled by a controversy over wages paid its engineers. They are specially trained nuclear experts, and can't be replaced in a union hiring hall like most crewmen.

The $53.5-million ship was to have started Tuesday on an 8-day training cruise—to train new engineers.

Auto Overturns, Driver, 30, Cited

Police said Clyde H. Moore, 30, of Wellsville R. D. 1 was headed into Wellsville near the intersection of Route 45 when his car jumped the curb at 3:30 a. m.

The vehicle went up onto the sidewalk, swerved off and then overturned twice on the bridge at the floodwall, police said. It was demolished.

A car driven by William Walker of Huntington, W. Va., hit the rear of another driven by James Leo Nentwick, 416 Vine St., Monday afternoon at 3:35 at the intersection of 3rd St. and Broadway, Wellsville.

Police said Nentwick had halted for traffic. Minor damage resulted.

Joint Board Reorganizes

Harvey Todd Returned As Southern Beaver Head

The Southern Beaver County Joint Board of Education Monday night reorganized, re-electing Harvey Todd, president, to a fifth term. David L. McKenzie, vice president, was also re - elected.

The joint board continued its meetings for the first Monday of the month at 7:30 p. m. in South Side High School near Hookstown.

Results were announced for four individual boards which organized. The two other individual boards, Shippingport and Georgetown, will meet later.

Hookstown board elected John Welch as its new president and Wilda Potts, current president, as vice president. The board also selected Mrs. Maxine Fox, a non-member, as treasurer.

Clarence R. Scott was elected as new president of the Greene Township board and Clifford M. Lyon, current president, as vice president.

Shippingport Board did not meet. Georgetown Board met but did not have a quorum.

The individual boards meet prior to or after the joint board.

Chester Elliott served as temporary chairman at the joint board reorganization.

During the regular meeting of the joint board, two field trips were approved. The Future Nurses Club, whose sponsor is Mrs. Lois Frasier, school nurse, attended an open house Tuesday at Allegheny General Hospital at Pittsburgh.

The eighth and ninth grades general science classes will go to Buhl Planetarium at Pittsburgh on Jan. 17, accompanied by George Moreth, advisor, and James Kelker.

The board approved a request of the South Side Parent - Teacher Association to have a program presented by the St. Elijah Tamburitzans at a PTA meeting next Monday.

A request of the South Side Citizens' Association was approved for the group to use the high school auditorium Dec. 27 for a basketball game between the faculty and alumni.

50 At Reorganization

Charles Boso To Head Men's Republican Club

Charles Boso of Sunnyside Ave. was elected president at a reorganization of the East Liverpool Area Men's Republican Club Tuesday night at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex. About 50 attended.

Other officers named were Richard Judge, vice president; Richard Johnston, secretary; Lawrence W. Sixt, treasurer, and Sheridan Leasure, chaplain.

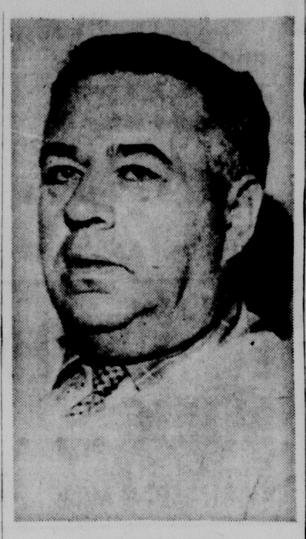
A lifetime resident of East Liverpool, Boso is a kilnman at the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. He has been president of the kilnmen's local in the IBOP for 10 years. He also is a member of the Trades and Labor Council.

The Board of Directors will be comprised of the top four officers plus John Thompson, Richard Brian and David Sakol. The nominating committee consisted of Sakol, Thompson, Alvin Babb, Robert Sample and Paul Baxter.

The new officers took over immediately. Membership cards for the coming year will be available at the meeting Jan. 2.

The club voted to meet the first Tuesday of each month in the annex but the next will be on Wednesday because Jan. 1 is a holiday.



CHARLES BOSO
He Succeeds Sam Webber.

The program committee for the next is Frank Fluno, Richard Carter and Robert Miller.

Heart Association To Open Area Fund Drive Thursday

The Youngstown Heart Association, which embraces Columbiana County, will begin its 1963 fund drive at a kickoff luncheon Thursday at the Youngstown Club in Youngstown with Dr. A. C. Corcoran of Cleveland as speaker.

Dr. Corcoran, of St. Vincent Charity Hospital in Cleveland, is the recipient of two grants totaling $10,600 in research funds from the association.

For the years 1961 and 1962, he utilized the research grants for further the study of the kidneys, which have a marked effect on the speed of the blood flow, one possible cause of high blood pressure.

Dr. Corcoran's study is setting up hard and fast rules for graphing and charting the flow of a radio isotope solution injected into the bloodstream.

The movement of the radio active particles help detect the malfunction of one or both kidneys, a vascular obstruction, or an obstruction in the lower tract. These studies then help the doctor determine a course of treatment for the relief of high blood pressure. This one heart disease can be caused by any one or a combination of these conditions.

The process of graphing and charting the radio isotopes in the blood stream and through the kidneys is now being used by the association. The first hospital in Youngstown to begin to use this method was South Side. Once established, radiologists were trained for North Side Hospital.

Since this study, known to doctors as radioisotope renography, has been instituted in Youngstown, many people have been helped, the association said. Research grants from the association come back to the area in form of improved methods of diagnosing and treating heart disease, it added.

Chairmen Appointed In Heart Solicitation

SALEM — Six campaign chairmen of area communities in the Columbiana County Heart Council met for a dinner at Timberlane's Monday night.

Twing Hiscox, president, said campaign material for the door-to-door canvass on Heart Sunday Feb. 24 will be distributed in Lisbon the afternoon and evening of Jan. 16.

A complete list of chairmen for all county communities will be announced soon, he said.

Bid Accepted For Garage

The Hanover Township Board of Supervisors has accepted a bid of $4,111.80 of the Shenango Steel Building Co. of West Middlesex, Pa., for the erection of a fabricated steel building as the first township garage.

Fred Martin, secretary-treasurer, said there was a difference of $260.20 between the bid and that of the Boyd Lumber Co. of Calcutta.

The garage will be erected on the township property, the former Miller School tract on Route 18 about a mile and a half south of Hillendale. It will be 40-x-60 feet.

Ed Wilkinson is board chairman. Next meeting will be held the last of December instead of Jan. 1 due to the holiday.

Council At Chester Skips Meeting Tonight

A scheduled meeting of Chester Council tonight will not be held because three councilmen will be unable to attend, preventing a quorum, Mayor Harry Abrams announced.

Mayor Abrams said Councilman Donald Chaney is on a hunting trip, and Councilmen Carl Graham and Wayne Hutton will not attend due to work schedules. Mayor Abrams said the next meeting will be announced.

Heart Association To Open Area Fund Drive Thursday

The Youngstown Heart Association, which embraces Columbiana County, will begin its 1963 fund drive at a kickoff luncheon Thursday at the Youngstown Club in Youngstown with Dr. A. C. Corcoran of Cleveland as speaker.

Dr. Corcoran, of St. Vincent Charity Hospital in Cleveland, is the recipient of two grants totaling $10,600 in research funds from the association.

For the years 1961 and 1962, he utilized the research grants for further the study of the kidneys, which have a marked effect on the speed of the blood flow, one possible cause of high blood pressure.

Dr. Corcoran's study is setting up hard and fast rules for graphing and charting the flow of a radio isotope solution injected into the bloodstream.

The movement of the radio active particles help detect the malfunction of one or both kidneys, a vascular obstruction, or an obstruction in the lower tract. These studies then help the doctor determine a course of treatment for the relief of high blood pressure. This one heart disease can be caused by any one or a combination of these conditions.

The process of graphing and charting the radio isotopes in the blood stream and through the kidneys is now being used by the association. The first hospital in Youngstown to begin to use this method was South Side. Once established, radiologists were trained for North Side Hospital.

Since this study, known to doctors as radioisotope renography, has been instituted in Youngstown, many people have been helped, the association said. Research grants from the association come back to the area in form of improved methods of diagnosing and treating heart disease, it added.

Chairmen Appointed In Heart Solicitation

SALEM — Six campaign chairmen of area communities in the Columbiana County Heart Council met for a dinner at Timberlane's Monday night.

Twing Hiscox, president, said campaign material for the door-to-door canvass on Heart Sunday Feb. 24 will be distributed in Lisbon the afternoon and evening of Jan. 16.

A complete list of chairmen for all county communities will be announced soon, he said.

Bid Accepted For Garage

The Hanover Township Board of Supervisors has accepted a bid of $4,111.80 of the Shenango Steel Building Co. of West Middlesex, Pa., for the erection of a fabricated steel building as the first township garage.

Fred Martin, secretary-treasurer, said there was a difference of $260.20 between the bid and that of the Boyd Lumber Co. of Calcutta.

The garage will be erected on the township property, the former Miller School tract on Route 18 about a mile and a half south of Hillendale. It will be 40-x-60 feet.

The supervisors will keep the township truck, grader, snow plow, tractor, and other equipment and materials in the structure.

Bids for the garage were advertised at last month's meeting and opened Saturday at a meeting that was continued until Monday.

Ed Wilkinson is board chairman. Next meeting will be held the last of December instead of Jan. 1 due to the holiday.

Council At Chester Skips Meeting Tonight

A scheduled meeting of Chester Council tonight will not be held because three councilmen will be unable to attend, preventing a quorum, Mayor Harry Abrams announced.

Mayor Abrams said Councilman Donald Chaney is on a hunting trip, and Councilmen Carl Graham and Wayne Hutton will not attend due to work schedules. Mayor Abrams said the next meeting will be announced.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter from "Debbie" and was stunned because I had a similar experience 30 years ago.

We had a large, gray tomcat named Sir Gregory. He hated my boy friend, Horace. Sir Gregory's hair stood on end whenever Horace came to see me. He hid under the buffet when Horace was in the house. When Horace walked past the buffet Sir Gregory lashed out and scratched his highly polished leather shoes. Once Sir Gregory put his claws clean through Horace's sox.

I married Horace and it was the biggest mistake of my life. He turned out to be selfish and unfaithful. The kindness he showered on me during courtship was an act. I wish I had known then that animals have instincts about people who are putting on a false front.

I hope and pray that "Debbie" drops her boy friend and finds a young man her airedale can warm up to. — SMART TOO LATE.

Dear Smart: The divorce rate in this country is at a point where perhaps mate selection ought to be left to the family pets. They couldn't do much worse than people.

His 'Second Wife'

Dear Ann: I thought my husband and I had a good marriage until three weeks ago. A young woman showed up at my front door and introduced herself as my husband's "secret, unmarried wife." I almost fainted.

This woman is 26, neat, attractive and soft-spoken. She said she hated to come to my home and had put it off as long as she could. Now she is in dire need and must have financial help to raise her 2-year-old child which is my husband's.

The story sounded so fantastic I refused to believe it. When she showed me pictures of the child there were no doubts in my mind. She looked like a twin to our own little girl.

My husband came off the road the next day and I told him about my visitor. At first he denied everything, but when he found it was useless to try to fool me, he confessed.

Does my husband have an obligation to this child? I still love him but how can I trust him after this? Please help me.—QUICKSAND.

Dear Quicksand: Your husband is morally and legally obligated to support his child.

Give him the break he doesn't deserve and stand by him. He may be a better husband after you demonstrate faith and confidence. If you can carry this off with dignity and courage, you are a real heroine —and your reward may well be a real husband.

Snoopy Mother

Dear Ann: My husband and I went away for a month's vacation in October. We left our house key with the people next door and asked them to check every few days to see if everything was okay. (We did the same thing for them last year.)

When we returned the neighbors informed us that my husband's mother had asked for our house key the day after we left town. She said she would do the checking.

She then went over daily and spent several hours doing heaven knows what. A few days before we returned, she gave the key back to the neighbors and asked them not to say anything because I might not like it.

I am fuming. My husband agrees that she had no right to do this. But he thinks it would serve no purpose to chew her out. What would you do if you were in my shoes? — FRIED.

Dear Fried Shoes: Nothing now. Your husband is right. In the future instruct the neighbors not to give the house key to ANYONE. They'll understand and so will your mother-in-law.

Voted outside the limitation are: Firemen's levy, 1-mill, $42,350; City Hospital seven - tenths of a mill, $29,645, and incinerator department 2.2-mill levy, $93,171.

The figures were turned over to Council at its meeting Nov. 19 and then referred to the finance committee for study. Last night's action followed.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

The Entertainers Are Coming Back

Jule Styne is a short, dapper, gray-haired gentleman given to wearing dark glasses indoors and to writing all the songs that Berlin, Porter, Rodgers and Bernstein did not write.

Alan Gill

You'll hear the latest Jule Styne score Tuesday night, Dec. 18, when NBC - TV presents an animated musical called "Mr. Magoo's Christmas Carol." The man who drew up the melodies we used to whistle ("I Don't Want To Walk Without You, Baby," "I'll Walk Alone," "It's Been a Long, Long Time") —and many of those we still do whistle ("Just in Time," "The Party's Over," "Everything's Coming Up Roses") — was chatting quietly the other day about his new compositions for the puckered lip.

-:-

"WE'VE DONE the "Magoo' score — 'we,' meaning Bob Merrill, who did the lyrics, and me —in the Dickens style, sweet and touching," he said.

"Oh, we start out with a rousing song for Magoo himself, 'It's Great To Be Back on Broadway'; then we're back in 'A Christmas Carol' and it's Dickens all the way, with no gags.

"We have a couple of nice ballads, 'Winter Was Warm' and 'When You're Alone,' followed by a thing called 'We're Despicable.' This is sung by three Cockney pirates who, in the Christmas Future sequence, are hocking Scrooge's curtains. Scrooge, of course, is played by Magoo, and played straight.

"And we have a lovely family song, sung at the Cratchitts' Christmas table, 'The Lord's Bright Blessing,' and I think it has a nice religious feeling in it. Christmas, it says, is 'more glorious than grand.'"

STYNE, who was born in London on New Year's Eve 1905, says "the English music hall comes out in everything I write. All my songs have the greatest da-dahhh at the end. There's no understatement in my work. The finish — the da-dahhh, the applause - getter — is always there.

"There's a Scotch influence, too. You know, as a child, I was a great Harry Lauder friend and imitator. When I was just 3 years old, I was sitting with my parents in a London music hall, and suddenly there I was jumping to the stage to sing with Sir Harry. It was 'I Love a Lassie.'

"Many of my songs have that basic beat, the rhythm not of the Scotch pastorale but the jingle. You hear it in songs like 'Bye Bye, Baby.' Real square. And in my walking songs. I like to write walking songs."

BEYOND THE "Magoo" special, Julie Styne is working on a Carol Burnett musical with Comden and Green, his long-time collaborators; and, as a producer, on three other musicals and two comedies, a movie, and two television series, one of which is based, musically and dramatically, upon the exploits of "a Tugboat Annie - Annie Oakley type who runs a sightseeing boat around Manhattan."

On the state of musical comedy, the prolific Mr. Styne has a few sharp observations.

"The 'Carousels' and 'Pal Joeys' and 'My Fair Ladies' are gone, the dramatic musical is on its way out. And the nonsinging actors, the Harrisons and Burtons — they're going, too.

"MUSICALS need entertainers and they're coming back. Why? Well, the strong book writers, the Kaufmans, the Harts, are gone; and besides, people are looking back fondly to the days of Gaxton and Moore, Bert Lahr, Bobby Clark, and Will Rogers.

"The entertainers. Well, they're beginning to get them again. Look at 'A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum,' or Sid Caesar in 'Little Me.'

"Abe Burrows is essentially an entertainment man."

He tells a companion about "Everything's Coming Up Roses" when it used to be called "Betwixt and Between," and about "You'll Never Get Away from Me," which started out as "Pursuit of Happiness."

His own favorite is "Sunday." And his most neglected songs, he feels, are "You Love Me" and "You or No One."

As he sings those opening bars, you know it's been a long, long time, but you've heard that lovely song before.

Youth Loses License In 2nd Traffic Arrest

LISBON — A Salem area youth lost his driver's license until his 18th birthday on June 28, 1964, when he appeared before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon Monday for speeding — his second traffic citation in less than three months.

John Nick I ick Jr., 16, of Salem R. D. 5 was cited Sunday by the State Highway Patrol on a charge of driving 100 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone on Route 45 between Salem and Lisbon. The judge noted that Penick's license was suspended for 30 days on Sept. 6 for unsafe operation and it had been restored to him Oct. 6.

"A person of your age with two violations as severe as these doesn't rate a license," the judge told Penick. "Your permit will be returned on your 18th birthday."

Council Gives Annexation First Reading

EAST PALESTINE—City Council Monday night gave first reading to an ordinance accepting for annexation parts of Unity Township lying north of and west of the present corporate limits of the city.

The ordinance was prepared following certification by the Columbiana County commissioners of their approval of an annexation petition bearing the names of the majority of the adult resident freeholders of the areas involved.

Two more readings are required for final approval. The area embraces about a square mile and approximately 750 persons. The annexation proceedings were launched primarily to relieve a sewage pollution problem existing in those areas.

The city will extend water and sewer lines and take other steps to provide police and fire protection and street maintenance. This all is planned for the future.

The new water and sewer lines will be paid for by the property owners. The new sewage disposal plant being constructed will handle the additional load. City electric lines already serve the areas.

Following approval here, the matter is certified to the secretary of state and to the Columbiana County Board of Elections for any necessary changes in the voting procedures. It will be at least a year before any changes are made in the tax duplicates.

Council received a request from the police department for an 8 per cent pay increase, plus a $100 uniform allowance and an additional paid holiday.

Council gave second reading to an ordinance granting a 5 per cent increase to 17 employes of the electric light department. They took no action on a previous request by 11 employes of the street, sewer and water departments for a similar wage hike.

Oakmont Street Project Slated

Smoothing of Andrews Ave. in Oakmont and slag for a Glenmoor road were approved by the St. Clair Township trustees Monday night.

Residents of Milton Ave. near Casting Club Rd., where a widening of the road is slated by St. Clair and Liverpool Townships, were assured the work still is planned and will be undertaken when the Ohio Power Co. moves utility poles.

Three more applications were received for a vacant police constable post. Deadline on applications is Dec. 15, according to Harold Williams, trustee, who said about 10 applications have been received.

School Needs Aired

EAST PALESTINE—The Board of Education Monday night discussed purchase of equipment for the new 10-room elementary building and the six-room addition to the high school. Funds became available by the passage of a 5-mill levy at the Nov. 6 election. Tentative date for occupation of the buildings was set at Jan. 28. This marks the opening of the second semester. The needed equipment primarily is desk and chairs.

Orientation Set For New Officers Of Quartet Unit

Plans for the orientation of new officers were completed when the East Liverpool Chapter of SPEBSQSA met Monday night in the new meeting place at the Elks Club ballroom. About 25 attended.

The session is planned Sunday afternoon at the ballroom and all members of the new Executive Board are to attend. Jack Varley of Youngstown, district vice president, will be in charge.

The name of the Caspian "sea" is a misnomer. It is a land-locked lake and is so classified by oceanographers. With its 169,300 square miles, the Caspian is the largest lake in the world. The second largest is Lake Superior, with 31,820 square miles of water surface.

Man Absolved For Fatality

A Chester truck driver was found "not criminally responsible" at a Beaver County coroner's inquest Saturday in the traffic death of an Imperial man Oct. 25 on Route 30 near Clinton.

William Ferguson, 34, of 920 Plutus Ave., Chester, was cleared of the death but still faces a traffic charge. He posted a $1,000 bond for the coroner's inquest at a hearing Oct. 25 before Justice of the Peace Rowena Bishop of Route 30.

He also posted a $30 bond at the hearing on a charge of traveling too fast for conditions, a charge he waived to court and still is pending, police said.

Dr. John W. Colavincenzo, Beaver County coroner, reported the verdict of the inquest held at the Beaver County Home and Hospital. State police said there was not sufficient evidence to accuse Ferguson of involuntary manslaughter.

George N. Thomas, 59, of Imperial was killed when the cab of his rented pickup truck was sheared off in the accident the afternoon of Oct. 25 on Route 30 just west of Clinton.

The Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State police reported that Ferguson said his vehicle skidded on the wet highway, jackknifed and swerved into the eastbound lane.

Horn Purchased By Music Parents

A baritone horn for the elementary department was purchased by the Beaver Local Music Parents Association Monday night.

The group voted to sponsor a booth at the spring festival in June. Mrs. Genevieve Webber conducted devotions. Mrs. Irene Mast, president, presided. The elementary flutophone class played, along with a clarinet quartet, Sue Stone, Nancy Mullen, Karen Hawkins and Cindy Carnes.

Mrs. Emma Baumberger reported on a rummage sale being held at the City Market building. Carl Mansfield reported on progress of construction and proceeds from a concession stand.

Mrs. Carol Walton, choir director, said the Christmas concert will be held Dec. 19 at the high school. It is open to the public.

Cleveland Man Fined $200 In Patrol Case

LISBON — Robert W. Cable, 23, of Cleveland was fined $200 and costs Monday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for driving while his operator's license was under suspension.

In other State Highway Patrol cases, Joseph Simon, 43, of Cleveland was fined $40 and costs for reckless operation and $10 and costs for driving an unsafe vehicle.

Makeup Clinics Set For Hancock Polio Vaccine

Hancock Countians who were unable to take advantage of Sabin oral polio vaccine clinics held Sunday will receive a second chance.

The County Health Department scheduled three "makeup clinics" for those who failed to get their dosages on "Sabin Sunday."

The clinics will be held today at the Health Department building in New Cumberland, Thursday at the Professional Building in Weirton, and Friday on the second floor of the Hancock County Federal Savings & Loan Association building in Chester.

The hours for each clinic are 2 to 5 p. m. Health Department personnel will be in charge, and no volunteers are needed, officials said. Dr. J. E. Hall of Newell is county physician.

The vaccine will be administered three drops on a lump of sugar.

A total of 18,316 county residents turned out Sunday to receive the oral vaccine at clinics in New Cumberland and Weirton. Hancock participated with six other counties in West Virginia and Ohio in a mass immunization program in which the Type I Sabin vaccine was offered.

Types II and III will be given later.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

The Entertainers Are Coming Back

Jule Styne is a short, dapper, gray-haired gentleman given to wearing dark glasses indoors and to writing all the songs that Berlin, Porter, Rodgers and Bernstein did not write.

Alan Gill

You'll hear the latest Jule Styne score Tuesday night, Dec. 18, when NBC - TV presents an animated musical called "Mr. Magoo's Christmas Carol." The man who drew up the melodies we used to whistle ("I Don't Want To Walk Without You, Baby," "I'll Walk Alone," "It's Been a Long, Long Time") —and many of those we still do whistle ("Just in Time," "The Party's Over," "Everything's Coming Up Roses") — was chatting quietly the other day about his new compositions for the puckered lip.

-:-

"WE'VE DONE the "Magoo" score — 'we,' meaning Bob Merrill, who did the lyrics, and me —in the Dickens style, sweet and touching," he said.

"Oh, we start out with a rousing song for Magoo himself, 'It's Great To Be Back on Broadway'; then we're back in 'A Christmas Carol' and it's Dickens all the way, with no gags.

"We have a couple of nice ballads, 'Winter Was Warm' and 'When You're Alone,' followed by a thing called 'We're Despicable.' This is sung by three Cockney pirates who, in the Christmas Future sequence, are hocking Scrooge's curtains. Scrooge, of course, is played by Magoo, and played straight.

"And we have a lovely family song, sung at the Cratchitts' Christmas table, 'The Lord's Bright Blessing,' and I think it has a nice religious feeling in it. Christmas, it says, is 'more glorious than grand.' "

STYNE, who was born in London on New Year's Eve 1905, says "the English music hall comes out in everything I write. All my songs have the greatest da-dahhh at the end. There's no understatement in my work. The finish — the da-dahhh, the applause - getter — is always there.

"There's a Scotch influence, too. You know, as a child, I was a great Harry Lauder friend and imitator. When I was just 3 years old, I was sitting with my parents in a London music hall, and suddenly there I was jumping to the stage to sing with Sir Harry. It was 'I Love a Lassie.'

"Many of my songs have that basic beat, the rhythm not of the Scotch pastorale but the jingle. You hear it in songs like 'Bye Bye, Baby.' Real square. And in my walking songs. I like to write walking songs."

BEYOND THE "Magoo" special, Julie Styne is working on a Carol Burnett musical with Comden and Green, his long-time collaborators; and, as a producer, on three other musicals and two comedies, a movie, and two television series, one of which is based, musically and dramatically, upon the exploits of "a Tugboat Annie - Annie Oakley type who runs a sightseeing boat around Manhattan."

On the state of musical comedy, the prolific Mr. Styne has a few sharp observations.

"The 'Carousels' and 'Pal Joeys' and 'My Fair Ladies' are gone, the dramatic musical is on its way out. And the nonsinging actors, the Harrisons and Burtons — they're going, too.

"MUSICALS need entertainers and they're coming back. Why? Well, the strong book writers, the Kaufmans, the Harts, are gone; and besides, people are looking back fondly to the days of Gaxton and Moore, Bert Lahr, Bobby Clark, and Will Rogers.

"The entertainers. Well, they're beginning to get them again. Look at 'A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum,' or Sid Caesar in 'Little Me.'

He tells a companion about "Everything's Coming Up Roses" when it used to be called "Betwixt and Between," and about "You'll Never Get Away from Me," which started out as "Pursuit of Happiness."

His own favorite is "Sunday." And his most neglected songs, he feels, are "You Love Me" and "You or No One."

As he sings those opening bars, you know it's been a long, long time, but you've heard that lovely song before.

Youth Loses License In 2nd Traffic Arrest

LISBON — A Salem area youth lost his driver's license until his 18th birthday on June 28, 1964, when he appeared before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon Monday for speeding — his second traffic citation in less than three months.

John Nick I ick Jr., 16, of Salem R. D. 5 was cited Sunday by the State Highway Patrol on a charge of driving 100 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone on Route 45 between Salem and Lisbon. The judge noted that Penick's license was suspended for 30 days on Sept. 6 for unsafe operation and it had been restored to him Oct. 6.

"A person of your age with two violations as severe as these doesn't rate a license," the judge told Penick. "Your permit will be returned on your 18th birthday."

Council Gives Annexation First Reading

EAST PALESTINE—City Council Monday night gave first reading to an ordinance accepting for annexation parts of Unity Township lying north of and west of the present corporate limits of the city.

The ordinance was prepared following certification by the Columbiana County commissioners of their approval of an annexation petition bearing the names of the majority of the adult resident freeholders of the areas involved.

Two more readings are required for final approval. The area embraces about a square mile and approximately 750 persons. The annexation proceedings were launched primarily to relieve a sewage pollution problem existing in those areas.

The city will extend water and sewer lines and take other steps to provide police and fire protection and street maintenance. This all is planned for the future.

The new water and sewer lines will be paid for by the property owners. The new sewage disposal plant being constructed will handle the additional load. City electric lines already serve the areas.

Following approval here, the matter is certified to the secretary of state and to the Columbiana County Board of Elections for any necessary changes in the voting procedures. It will be at least a year before any changes are made in the tax duplicates.

Council received a request from the police department for an 8 per cent pay increase, plus a $100 uniform allowance and an additional paid holiday.

Council gave second reading to an ordinance granting a 5 per cent increase to 17 employes of the electric light department. They took no action on a previous request by 11 employes of the street, sewer and water departments for a similar wage hike.

Oakmont Street Project Slated

Smoothing of Andrews Ave. in Oakmont and slag for a Glenmoor road were approved by the St. Clair Township trustees Monday night.

Residents of Milton Ave. near Casting Club Rd., where a widening of the road is slated by St. Clair and Liverpool Townships, were assured the work still is planned and will be undertaken when the Ohio Power Co. moves utility poles.

Three more applications were received for a vacant police constable post. Deadline on applications is Dec. 15, according to Harold Williams, trustee, who said about 10 applications have been received.

School Needs Aired

EAST PALESTINE—The Board of Education Monday night discussed purchase of equipment for the new 10-room elementary building and the six-room addition to the high school. Funds became available by the passage of a 5-mill levy at the Nov. 6 election. Tentative date for occupation of the buildings was set at Jan. 28. This marks the opening of the second semester. The needed equipment primarily is desk and chairs.

Man Absolved For Fatality

A Chester truck driver was found "not criminally responsible" at a Beaver County coroner's inquest Saturday in the traffic death of an Imperial man Oct. 25 on Route 30 near Clinton.

William Ferguson, 34, of 920 Plutus Ave., Chester, was cleared of the death but still faces a traffic charge. He posted a $1,000 bond for the coroner's inquest at a hearing Oct. 25 before Justice of the Peace Rowena Bishop of Route 30.

He also posted a $30 bond at the hearing on a charge of traveling too fast for conditions, a charge he waived to court and still is pending, police said.

Dr. John W. Colavincenzo, Beaver County coroner, reported the verdict of the inquest held at the Beaver County Home and Hospital. State police said there was not sufficient evidence to accuse Ferguson of involuntary manslaughter.

George N. Thomas, 59, of Imperial was killed when the cab of his rented pickup truck was sheared off in the accident the afternoon of Oct. 25 on Route 30 just west of Clinton.

The Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State police reported that Ferguson said his vehicle skidded on the wet highway, jackknifed and swerved into the eastbound lane.

Horn Purchased By Music Parents

A baritone horn for the elementary department was purchased by the Beaver Local Music Parents Association Monday night.

The group voted to sponsor a booth at the spring festival in June. Mrs. Genevieve Webber conducted devotions. Mrs. Irene Mast, president, presided. The elementary flutophone class played, along with a clarinet quartet, Sue Stone, Nancy Mullen, Karen Hawkins and Cindy Carnes.

Mrs. Emma Baumberger reported on a rummage sale being held at the City Market building. Carl Mansfield reported on progress of construction and proceeds from a concession stand.

Mrs. Carol Walton, choir director, said the Christmas concert will be held Dec. 19 at the high school. It is open to the public.

A bake sale will be held Feb. 16 at Ogilvie's. Lunch was served by Ruby Whitehill and Sheila Green. The next meeting is Jan. 2.

John Flasco New Western Board's Head

Flasco, who was vice president, succeeds James P. McClaskey. Flasco has been a board member five years, and Camp for seven years.

Meetings were set for 8 p. m., the same time as before, but will be held twice a month starting in January instead of once a month.

The meetings will be held the first and third Mondays. The first will be held alternately at the district's five schools, beginning at the high school in January, Fairview in February, Industry in March, Logan in April and Snyder in May, then beginning a new series.

The board said the changing of the meetings will give the public an opportunity to attend meetings closer to their homes and also give each board member a chance to visit each building in the district. The schools are located in Industry and Ohioville.

Flasco served as temporary chairman for the reorganization and also presided as vice president over the regular meeting in the absence of McClaskey, president. The board met at the Snyder School.

The board adopted a basketball uniform and award letter for the school's team. Richard Herter, chairman of the athletic committee, reported that an athletic program has been established and he presented a sample of the uniform.

The uniform has a white top with gold trunks, and the award letter is gold, all three trimmed in purple and gold, the school colors.

The board set the price of admission to home basketball games at 75 cents for adults and 40 cents for students. Students who buy tickets in advance may get them for 25 cents. Student season tickets will be $1.50. There will be nine home games.

Approval was given for a week's trial run of an activities bus to determine the mileage, time and cost involved. The bus would be for all students participating in an after-school activity.

Blair Ferguson of Beaver Falls R. D., bus contractor, was present to answer any questions on transportation.

Homebound instruction was approved for Marilyn Joseph of Fairview, who has been unable to attend school for health reasons.

Permission was granted the Bell Telephone Co. to install two pay phones in the lobby of the high school, one in the main lobby and the other in the new gymnasium lobby.

Michael Arbutina, high school principal, and Donald Bradshaw, elementary principal, were granted permission to attend the National Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development conference at St. Louis, March 10-14.

City Workers Get Flu Shots

Hoping to guard against a threatened epidemic of Asian flu this winter, about 80 municipal employes were given free immunizations Tuesday afternoon at the city health department office.

The shots were offered to all rank-and-file employes, Safety-Director Robert Owen explained. They were offered an opportunity to sign for the immunization.

Cost of the immunization program was estimated at about $100. Dr. J. Keith Rugh, a member of the health board, was in charge of administering the shots.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet explained the administration felt it advisable to follow the example of private business and industry and offer the shots as a way of holding down possible illness and absenteeism.

If the program prevents one employe's illness and subsequent absence for a week, the city will be repaid, the director said.

Since the annual rounds of Asian flu began about five years ago, it is the first occasion the city has offered the immunization to its employes.

John Flasco New Western Board's Head

Flasco, who was vice president, succeeds James P. McClaskey. Flasco has been a board member five years, and Camp for seven years.

Meetings were set for 8 p. m., the same time as before, but will be held twice a month starting in January instead of once a month.

The meetings will be held the first and third Mondays. The first will be held alternately at the district's five schools, beginning at the high school in January, Fairview in February, Industry in March, Logan in April and Snyder in May, then beginning a new series.

The board said the changing of the meetings will give the public an opportunity to attend meetings closer to their homes and also give each board member a chance to visit each building in the district. The schools are located in Industry and Ohioville.

Flasco served as temporary chairman for the reorganization and also presided as vice president over the regular meeting in the absence of McClaskey, president. The board met at the Snyder School.

The board adopted a basketball uniform and award letter for the school's team. Richard Herter, chairman of the athletic committee, reported that an athletic program has been established and he presented a sample of the uniform.

The uniform has a white top with gold trunks, and the award letter is gold, all three trimmed in purple and gold, the school colors.

The board set the price of admission to home basketball games at 75 cents for adults and 40 cents for students. Students who buy tickets in advance may get them for 25 cents. Student season tickets will be $1.50. There will be nine home games.

Approval was given for a week's trial run of an activities bus to determine the mileage, time and cost involved. The bus would be for all students participating in an after-school activity.

Blair Ferguson of Beaver Falls R. D., bus contractor, was present to answer any questions on transportation.

Homebound instruction was approved for Marilyn Joseph of Fairview, who has been unable to attend school for health reasons.

Permission was granted the Bell Telephone Co. to install two pay phones in the lobby of the high school, one in the main lobby and the other in the new gymnasium lobby.

Michael Arbutina, high school principal, and Donald Bradshaw, elementary principal, were granted permission to attend the National Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development conference at St. Louis, March 10-14.

City Workers Get Flu Shots

Hoping to guard against a threatened epidemic of Asian flu this winter, about 80 municipal employes were given free immunizations Tuesday afternoon at the city health department office.

The shots were offered to all rank-and-file employes, Safety-Director Robert Owen explained. They were offered an opportunity to sign for the immunization.

Cost of the immunization program was estimated at about $100. Dr. J. Keith Rugh, a member of the health board, was in charge of administering the shots.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet explained the administration felt it advisable to follow the example of private business and industry and offer the shots as a way of holding down possible illness and absenteeism.

If the program prevents one employe's illness and subsequent absence for a week, the city will be repaid, the director said.

Since the annual rounds of Asian flu began about five years ago, it is the first occasion the city has offered the immunization to its employes.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRTHDAYS

QUESTION: Why do we get presents and cakes with candles on our birthdays?

ANSWER: Birthday celebrations come from the feasts given by the ancient kings to honor the day on which they were born, as we can read in the Bible, Genesis 40, verse 20. The giving of presents is connected with the great event shown in our small picture, when the Three Kings brought gifts to the baby Jesus. The feeling and warmth of this beautiful story is carried on by our custom of giving presents both on Christmas and on birthdays. The birthday candle is another ancient symbol, for candles have long been thought of as symbols of light and have been used in many ceremonies to express the light of wisdom and spiritual understanding. It is said that the German Martin Luther was the first to put candles on a Christmas tree. Many of our Christmas customs came from Germany, especially after England's Queen Victoria married a German prince. The cake and candles of our birthdays may have originated in Germany or other parts of Europe.

FOR YOU TO DO: You're going to have a birthday within a year. We of Junior Editors wish we could be present and congratulate you. But since we can't we'll ask you to remember us at that time. So we send you many happy returns in advance.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I polish Mexican tinware?

A. Try rubbing the tin with brown paper moistened with vinegar. To prevent rusting, rub the tinware with lard or any unsalted fat, and heat well in the oven. Dry thoroughly. Should the tin have already become rusted, rub its surface with a cut green tomato, wait a few minutes, then wash, rinse, and dry.

Q. How can I treat fingernails that tend to break easily?

A. Massage them every night before retiring with olive oil. Regular buffing also invigorates the nails. And increased consumption of milk in the diet adds the necessary calcium for greater strength and beauty of the nails.

Q. What can I do for my hands when they feel puckered up or have that parboiled appearance after long immersion in soapsuds?

A. Rubbing them with vinegar or lemon juice will give relief, make them soft and white, and prevent chapping.

Toy Program Pushed

Christmas Activities Aired By Jaycee Board

Christmas activities were discussed at a meeting of the Jaycee Board of Directors Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce office.

John Parsons, chairman, reported on the Christmas parade and thanked all who worked to make it a success. He said the Jaycees will visit City Hospital and Osteopathic Hospital sometime before Christmas to distribute treats to the patients.

Frank Potts said the sale of fruit cakes is going well. The money will be used for the Toys For Tots program for needy children. The cakes may be obtained from any Jaycee.

Trading stamps also are being collected for the toy program. The public is being asked to drop books of trading stamps into receptacles which have been placed in numerous downtown businesses.

The stamps will be redeemed for toys to be distributed through the Salvation Army.

The board voted to supply Christmas gifts to all boys from Columbiana County who are at the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster.

The annual Christmas party for members and their wives will be Dec. 17 at the Travelers Hotel.

Russ Brown reported on arrangements for the annual Bosses Night program slated for mid-January. A speaker has been obtained. The annual Distinguished Service and Civic Service Awards will be presented.

The sale of name plates for homes is continuing.

A scholarship program, initiated by the Jaycees, has been chartered. Joe Coons, said several organizations are expressing interest in the project.

Guests included Dave Dailey, Bob Miller and Parsons.

Basketball for members will be conducted each Wednesday night at 8 at East Junior High School. The board adjourned to City Hall to attend the Council meeting and request adoption of a master plan for East Liverpool.

Next board meeting is Jan. 7.
